DEMOCRATS VOTE ADVISORY GROUP, HEAR STEVENSON SPEECH TONIGHT

Council Immediately Calls on Party Members in Congress to Press for Civil Rights Law at This Session.

By EDWARD A. HARRIS
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16—The Democratic National Conference will wind up its affairs with a $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner tonight to be addressed by Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's two-time standard bearer. He will talk chiefly on foreign affairs.

The "liberal" wing of the party was well pleased with the two-day developments of the conference, which pointed the way toward a more militant stand, between presidential election years, on a number of controversial issues, including the civil rights issue.

Other Conference Actions.

Highlights included:

1. Ratification by the Democratic National Committee of the action of its executive committee in Washington last November in creating a policy-making arm known as the Democratic Advisory Council.

2. An overwhelming voice vote of confidence in National Committee Chairman Paul M. Butler, who also will serve as head of the Advisory Council—and who has backed the successful move to broaden the scope of the National Committee.

3. Adoption by the Advisory Council, of which Stevenson is a member, of a resolution calling on the Democratic members of the Senate and House to support the party platform by fighting in this session of Congress for civil rights legislation.

The Advisory Council, consisting of the 14 members of the national body's executive committee and eight appointees, lost no time in swinging into action on one of the hottest subjects pending in Congress, and one on which Southern and Northern party leaders are divided.

May Antagonize Leaders.

By prodding Democratic leaders in Congress to do more about civil right legislation, the advisory group, observers said, might further antagonize Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas. Both have been cool to the whole concept of an advisory council.

The Advisory Council resolution, after hitting at "a woeful lack of leadership by President Eisenhower" and his Administration in the field of civil liberties, declared, in part:

"The Democratic members of the Senate and House of Representatives are hereby urged to proceed during this first session of the Eighty-fifth Congress to enact pending legislation introduced by Democratic members to eliminate discrimination of all kinds, in relation to the right to vote, to engage in gainful occupations, and the other specific discriminations mentioned in the plank on civil rights embodied in said platform."

Copies of the resolution were sent to Democratic officials, federal, state and local, and officials of the Democratic party, for the purpose of mobilizing public sentiment throughout the nation in support of "prompt action to put Democratic pledges into effect."

The only opposition to the ratification of the Advisory Coun-

Queen Elizabeth and Duke Reunited After 4 Months Apart

QUEEN ELIZABETH and the DUKE OF EDINBURGH stepping down from airliner after reunion at Lisbon today.

He Greets Her Plane in Lisbon — They Will Tour Portugal After Weekend.

LISBON, Feb. 16 (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, were reunited today for the first time since he set off on a world tour last fall. After two quiet days together, they will embark on a brief state visit to Portugal.

They had not seen each other in four months and rumors were circulating last week that there was a rift between them. Buckingham palace said the rumors were untrue.

A crowd of Portuguese and foreign dignitaries and more than 100 newsmen and photographers were at Montijo naval air field as the Queen's plane arrived from London.

The Duke reached the field one minute after the Queen's plane touched down. He was wearing a gray double-breasted business suit with brown shoes and carrying a brown hat in his hand. Behind him walked Portuguese Foreign Minister Dr. Paulo Cunha.

After the Viscount plane taxied up to the control tower, a red-carpeted staircase was rolled up. The Duke then boarded the plane to greet his wife. They retired alone to the royal lounge.

They stayed there just three minutes, and then left the plane. If there was a rift in the family it was not shown at the airport as they departed for the royal yacht Britannia, anchored at Setubal, 30 miles south of the Portuguese capital.

The Duke, tanned except for his chin which was newly clean shaven of a beard, was smiling broadly as he followed the Queen down the ladder and presented her to the Portuguese foreign minister. The Queen was pale but smiling, also.

She wore a blue wool dress,

1956 TAX EVADERS GOT 2824 YEARS IN PRISON TERMS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) —The people who collect income taxes for Uncle Sam do not subscribe to the old theory that there is nothing new under the sun. Every year they uncover a harvest of ingenious tax-dodging schemes that almost—but not quite—work.

Last year's crop included the dentist with the flexible conscience, the sailor who sought a refund instead of a wife in every port, and the porter who listed his dog as a dependent.

Commissioner Russell C. Harrington of the Internal Revenue Service said his agents last year screened 92,000 tips and leads relating to possible tax evasion. It was worth it, too.

By the end of 1956, Harrington said, 2580 cases were tried and additional taxes and assessments of $111,569,736 were recommended. And the federal courts levied an additional $2,747,604 in fines, plus prison terms totaling 2824 years.

PIGEON SHOWS ITS CONTEMPT IN VISIT TO COURT

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y., Feb. 16 (INS)—A pigeon flew in and decorum flew out yesterday in a courtroom of the White Plains Supreme Court.

The bird arrived through an open window shortly after Judge Arthur D. Brennan began hearing a $50,000 automobile negligence case.

For nearly an hour court attendants tried to drive the pigeon from the room by waving window poles and handkerchiefs. This only made the pigeon nervous.

When it was evident lawyers, jury and spectators also were getting nervous about having the pigeon overhead, Judge Brennan moved the trial to another room. At nightfall the bird still held undisputed possession of the courtroom.

MONTGOMERY DENIES HE HAS TAUGHT PRESIDENT ABOUT TV

Asserts His Role Is to Help Eisenhower Communicate With People.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) —Robert Montgomery, White House television adviser, TV producer and actor, discussed techniques and campaigning by TV in a talk yesterday to some 300 women, including many wives of Senators and Representatives, at the Congressional Club.

Montgomery said his role is "to see that nothing stands in the way of the President's being able to communicate with the people in the manner that he wishes." He added:

"At no time have I had the impertinence to attempt to train the President in any way, shape or form."

Bachelor, 105, to Marry.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Feb. 16 (AP)—John Henry King, who never has been married before, and Mrs. Fannie Excell, a widow, are to be married soon. They met as fellow patients in a hospital. King is 105 years old and the bride-to-be 87. "At last I have found the right woman," he said.

MOSCOW RADIO SAYS SHEPILOV FOREIGN POLICY WILL CONTINUE

Asserts Ousted Foreign Minister's Statement on Mideast Set Aims Which Gromyko Will Still Pursue.

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP)—The Moscow radio said today the Soviet Union intends to follow the foreign policy outlined by Dmitri Shepilov four days before his removal as Soviet foreign minister.

It was announced yesterday that Shepilov had been replaced as foreign minister by Andrei A. Gromyko.

Westerners in Moscow believed the reshuffle was a signal for a return to the tough old policies of former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov as opposed to those of Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party.

Aims of Policy Set.

The Moscow broadcast described Shepilov's report to the Supreme Soviet (parliament) Tuesday as an "exhaustive and comprehensive statement of the tasks and aims of Soviet foreign policy."

It said "reactions in the Western press . . . confirm as convincingly as possible the correctness of Comrade Shepilov's report."

Shepilov outlined a six-point Middle East proposal Tuesday that called for agreement on an economic development program, ending of arms shipments and junking of Western bases in the area.

Western diplomats viewed the proposals as Moscow's answer to President Eisenhower's plan for stabilizing the Middle East.

Shepilov also said the Soviet government still believes "war is not fatalistically inevitable." He said peaceful coexistence between Communism and Western capitalism remains "the cornerstone of the foreign policy of the Soviet state."

'Correctness' Noted.

The Moscow broadcast underlined the "correctness" of the policy outlined by Shepilov.

"Even hostile circles which are seeking to minimize its importance and influence are compelled to admit its unquestionably peace-loving and constructive nature," it said.

The part of the world most concerned over removal of Shepilov as Soviet foreign minister is the Middle East.

More than any other member of the Kremlin's top rank, Shepilov has been identified with Soviet support of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's regime in Egypt. Informed quarters in Cairo viewed his removal from the foreign ministry as perhaps an omen of change in Soviet Middle East policy.

They speculated that old school Communists—the Stalinists—in Moscow may have viewed lavish promises of aid to Arab nations and the Soviet-Red China pledge to help any Middle East victim of aggression as dangerous over-extension.

Shepilov's successor, Gromyko, is considered a protege of Molotov, the presumed leader of the old-line Communists.

Visited Cairo Twice.

Shepilov visited Cairo twice. In July 1955, as editor of the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda, he reportedly engineered the deal for arms to Egypt.

In June 1956, Shepilov returned as foreign minister. Some sources said—without later confirmation—that he then made a huge offer of economic aid, including a billion dollar loan without interest for the proposed Aswan high dam on the Nile.

In the Middle East and Europe, as well as in Washington, Gromyko's appointment to replace Shepilov clearly was a surprise to foreign ministers and diplomats.

Washington speculation was that Shepilov has been given some important job dealing with Soviet ideological and propaganda problems.

Foreign ministry sources in Paris said the French embassy in Moscow had given no hint of impending changes. These sources discounted Gromyko as a maker of Soviet policy and saw him rather as the tool of some powerful element in the Soviet hierarchy.

The French speculated that

PRESIDENT TRIES TURKEYS AGAIN, BAGS NO GAME

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 16 (AP) — President Eisenhower's hunting luck finally ran out on him yesterday. The President, who shot a 22-pound wild turkey Wednesday, did not get a shot at one.

Mr. Eisenhower has hunted quail or turkey every day but one since he arrived here a week ago as the vacation guest of Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey. Yesterday was the first day he brought down nary a bird.

The President hunted with Humphrey and his wife; John Hay (Jock) Whitney, the new Ambassador to Great Britain; and George E. Allen, Washington business man who owns a farm near Mr. Eisenhower's at Gettysburg, Pa.

Of the five, Mrs. Humphrey was the only one who got a good shot at a turkey. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty reported, but she failed to bring it down.

For the turkey hunt the party moved from the quail fields of the Humphrey plantation to another nearby, known as the Perkins place, owned by Humphrey's daughter, Mrs. Pamela Firman.

Army Changes Mind, Will Keep Horses for Arlington Funerals

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) —The Army bowed to the power of tradition yesterday and reversed its decision to abandon the use of horses at military funerals in Arlington National Cemetery.

Secretary of the Army Wilber Brucker said desirable economy "is outweighed by the intangible values which are involved in continuing the traditional horse-drawn caisson in the funeral service honoring our hero dead."

The Army announced several weeks ago that the ceremonial horses and caissons would be discontinued after June 1 because military funerals could be conducted at much lower cost by using motor hearses.

Brucker said the Army's decision was reconsidered in view of "widespread expressions of regret at the passing of the only remaining vestige of a tradition extending back more than 92 years."

Two caissons or gun carriages, and 16 matched grays and one black horse will remain in the care of the Third Infantry regiment, stationed at Fort Myer, Va.

30-DAY FORECAST: COLD IN EAST U.S., WARMER IN WEST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) —The Weather Bureau said yesterday its 30-day outlook for the period mid-February to mid-March calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals over the eastern third of the nation but above normal over the western half. In the remaining portion near normal averages are predicted.

The bureau added:

"Greater than normal precipitation with considerable snow is expected in the north and middle Atlantic states. Subnormal amounts are predicted west of the Continental Divide as well as in the northern plains and upper Mississippi valley. In other areas about normal precipitation is indicated."

U.S. CONTINUES PRESSURE ON ISRAEL AFTER IT BALKS AT PLAN TO LEAVE EGYPT

After Conference on Mideast Crisis

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER with SECRETARY OF STATE DULLES and HENRY CABOT LODGE, ambassador to the United Nations, after they conferred today at Thomasville, Ga., on the Middle East crisis.

DULLES AWAITS CLARIFICATION OF STAND AFTER HE SEES PRESIDENT

Indicates He Expects Envoy to Get New Instructions From Israeli Leaders—Lodge at Parley.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) —Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, returning from emergency conferences with President Eisenhower, said today the United States had given Israel a chance "to make a further clarification" of its position on withdrawing troops from Egypt.

Dulles said he would see Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban at once "if he is ready to see me." This meant that Dulles was expecting Eban to get further instructions from his government.

By RAYMOND P. BRANDT
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 16 —With President Eisenhower's personal support, the United States today continued its pressure on the Israeli government to comply with the United Nations resolutions that it withdraw its troops from the Gaza strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. returned to Washington and New York respectively after two conferences with the President at Milestone plantation here, the winter hunting estate of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, where the President and Mrs. Eisenhower are vacationing.

Dulles said he had informed the President "fully" regarding the exchange of views between himself and Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban in Washington yesterday when the Ambassador rejected Amreican offers to use its influence to assure passage of Israeli ships through the Gulf of Aqaba and to have United Nations armed forces take over the Gaza strip to protect Israeli against Egyptian raiding parties. The Ambassador asked for further clarification of American views.

Further U.N. Action Likely.

Dulles said that "in view of the probability of further action by the United Nations," Ambassador Lodge had participated in this phase of the conversion with the President.

"A matter of primary concern in our conversation," Dulles said in a formal statement, "was the failure of Israel to respond to repeated calls of the United Nations General Assembly that it end occupation of non-Israeli territory and withdraw behind agreed armistice lines."

The two officials flew here last night in a government airplane and went immediately to the Humphrey place for a 45-minute talk with the President and Humphrey. The conference was resumed for two hours today, beginning at the breakfast table at 8 a.m.

Dulles said the President and he hoped to receive promptly "a further clarification of the position of the Israeli government" and that pending the receipt of this information "there was no definitive decision today concerning further action which may be taken by the United States in support of the United Nations."

Stronger Action Indicated.

Although the statement said no definitive decision had been reached, there were implications in it that the President was prepared to back Dulles and Lodge in stronger U.N. resolutions against Israeli. The emphasis on the "failure" of Israel to respond to the "repeated" General Assembly calls to withdraw behind "agreed" armistice lines appeared to be a threat that the United States might vote with African-Asian bloc in the U.N. to apply economic sanctions against Israeli to force compliance.

Whether the President would be willing to go this far is debatable. Senate Minority leader William F. Knowland of California, a recent American delegate to the U.N., has opposed such sanctions and has the support of many other Senators.

Dulles and Lodge were scheduled to reach Washington early this afternoon, with Lodge going on immediately to New York by special Army plane.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, who sat in on both conferences at Milestone, said that Dulles expected to see Ambassador Eban "as soon as practicable after his return to Washington.

Cabinet's Action.

Israeli's decision to withdraw its troops only under a long list of conditions was made by the

U.S. STORES ATOM WARHEADS FOR NATO IN FRANCE

Americans Are Holding Materiel but Allies Will Use It in Event of Attack.

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS, Feb. 16 (AP)—The United States has stockpiled atomic warheads in France, it was learned authoritatively today.

The source for this disclosure cannot be given, but it is now solid information.

Selected Allied forces in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are being trained in the use of equipment that would carry the warheads. The warheads themselves are held by United States forces.

United States law forbids delivery of atomic warheads to other nations. However, as one expert put it, the aim of the Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe is to train the Allied forces so carefully that in the event of Russian attack all the Americans in charge of the stockpile would have to say is:

"Sergeant, there's the key."

The United States Government never has disclosed whether A-bombs or warheads were located at any of its overseas bases. The atomic energy law forbids such disclosures. Last Jan. 3, Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine commandant, was quoted as saying Marines with the United States Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean were armed with "live" atomic artillery, but the White House refused to confirm or deny that this meant atomic warheads.

The Soviet Union warned the United States Jan. 23 against setting up nuclear weapon and missile bases in other countries, and said countries permitting such bases would receive atomic retaliation in the event of war. The warning apparently was a reaction to the disclosure in President Eisenhower's budget message that the Pentagon is

SWEDISH EMBASSY OFFICIAL EXPELLED BY SOVIET UNION

MOSCOW, Feb. 16 (AP)—The Soviet Union announced today the expulsion of a Swedish Embassy secretary on charges of "illegal activities incompatible with his diplomatic status."

The secretary, Bertil Hermansson, an expert on Slavic languages, left the country nearly a month ago. His ouster appeared to be in retaliation for a current spy case in Sweden. Swedish newspapers said three Soviet Embassy officials have been expelled from Sweden in connection with the case.

Sweden protested the expulsion. An embassy spokesman said the report of the case in Pravda, official newspaper of the Soviet Communist party, "does not tell the whole story."

Pravda said Hermansson was "detained by a group of citizens" in January when he "tried to obtain a copy of a Soviet government document."

In Stockholm, a Foreign Office spokesman said a Russian friend of Hermannson's tried to hand him some papers in a taxicab Jan. 9. The taxi driver stopped the car, then drove both men to a police station. Hermansson was permitted to leave the station but was expelled a week later.

PRESIDENT FAVORS TRUMAN VISIT TO GREECE, TURKEY

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 16 (AP) — President Eisenhower's headquarters said today he "would look with a great deal of favor" on a visit by former President Harry S. Truman to Greece and Turkey.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said in response to questions that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles feels the same way about it and had relayed his views and Mr. Eisenhower's to Truman.

The former President is studying whether to accept an invitation from Greece and Turkey to visit those countries for the tenth anniversary of the Truman Doctrine, a program which gave them military and economic aid to thwart Communist aggression.

Relations between Mr. Eisenhower and Truman have been cool since the 1952 campaign when Mr. Eisenhower was reported deeply resentful of criticism voiced by the then President.

Recently, however, Truman has called for support of basic features of Mr. Eisenhower's program to help stabilize the Middle East.

ASSEMBLY VOTES DOWN DEBATE ON U.S. 'AGGRESSION'

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 16—The United Nations General Assembly last night overruled a Soviet-bloc proposal for a debate on "aggressive acts" by the United States in the Middle East and elsewhere.

By a vote of 53 to 13, with 12 abstentions, the General Assembly backed up its own Steering Committee, which already had rejected the Soviet request. In the Steering Committee the United States voted in favor of the debate, in line with its policy never to oppose a hearing on charges against this country.

During yesterday's debate, the Soviet Union and its satellites renewed their charges of United States aggressive designs in eastern Europe and the Middle East. In the Assembly roll call the United States voted against the Soviet request.

In addition to eight Soviet bloc countries, those voting in favor of debate were Yugoslavia, Egypt, India, Jordan and Syria.

Abstaining were Afghanistan, Burma, Ceylon, Finland, Indonesia, Morocco, Nepal, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Tunisia and Yemen.

WILD SHOTS FIRED IN HOSPITAL; MAN WITH PISTOL HELD

Intruder Overpowered at Cochran Institution, Where He Goes After Wounding Woman.

An armed man was overpowered at John J. Cochran Veterans Hospital last night after he seriously wounded a woman in the 2800 block of Cass avenue and threatened a nurse at the hospital, where he had gone for medication.

The man, who said he is George Gray, 25 years old, of the 2800 block of Cass, fired two shots as the nurse, Mrs. Muriel Thomas, 3949 Magnolia avenue, attempted to placate him. He was immediately disarmed by a resident physician and two hospital employes.

Police said Gray shot Mrs. Gloria Fay Willis, 21, with whom he lived, when he became enraged because she did not have supper ready at 6 p.m. Mrs. Willis said she fled from the house as he started loading a .22 caliber revolver.

Gray fired two wild shots as Mrs. Willis ran across the street to a confectionery where she attempted to call police. He then ordered her to leave the store, police said, and fired three shots at her as she reached the street. She was taken to Homer G. Phillips Hospital suffering from wounds of the chest, right leg and left thigh. Both she and Gray are Negroes.

Police reported Gray then hailed a taxicab and was driven to the Cochran Hospital at 915 North Grand boulevard.

Dr. E. C. O'Brien, director of professional service at the hospital, said Gray appeared at the admission desk and requested treatment for a nervous condition. As a clerk went to a back room to obtain an admission form, he ran up the stairs to the third floor and rode an elevator to the seventh.

The elevator operator saw Gray's weapon, Dr. O'Brien said, and hurried to the first floor to sound an alarm. Police were called.

Meanwhile, Gray sought out Mrs. Thomas and demanded that she give him a shot for his nerves.

"I don't know what's wrong with me," he was quoted as saying. "I just shot my wife."

Mrs. Thomas gave him a sedative and attempted to placate him. They walked into the hall where they were joined by Dr. Howard D. Siedler, resident physician; Herbert Spears

Rampaging Passengers Force Plane Down, They Are Monkeys

The Chicago Daily News-Post-Dispatch Special Radio. Copyright, 1957.

PARIS, Feb. 16—"Emergency . . . Must land . . . Disturbance by rowdy passengers."

That cryptic midnight alarm from a British DC-3 airliner London-bound from Brindisi jerked Orly Field outside Paris into a crash alert this week.

No further details were radioed but one rumor hinted a record list of 300, plus crew.

From the message's urgency, it appeared medical help would be needed. Nurses, air hostesses and attendants with first-aid equipment rushed up as the plane landed and taxied to a stop, its inside lights out.

When the ramp was set up, two of the bolder stewardesses raced up and opened the door. What they saw and heard was a bedlam of hairy creatures who jibber-jabbered and thrashed about.

Those nearest the girls pulled at their dresses, threw off their caps and started a mad rush down into the field.

Not until then was it known that the "passengers" were a shipment of simians of all types from tiny monkeys to medium-sized gorillas.

They had been collected in jungles for British zoos, it was explained. When over France some troublemakers broke out of their cages, freed others and started a dangerous rampage.

It took several hours for field personnel, with the help of police and floodlights, to round up the monkeyshiners for the final cross-channel hop.

EGYPT STIRS UP SUBVERSION IN ETHIOPIA, SAYS HAILE SELASSIE

Emperor Charges Nasser Seeks to Divide Moslems From Rest of Country—Asks for More U.S. Arms.

By HOMER BIGART
© New York Times News Service

ADDIS ABABA, Feb. 16 — Emperor Haile Selassie accused Egypt yesterday of fomenting subversion in Ethiopia. The Emperor said President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government was trying to stir up the large Moslem minority in Ethiopia with a view to dismembering this Christian kingdom in East Africa.

There has been considerable slackening of Egyptian propaganda since the Suez crisis, "but it still continues," the Emperor said.

Last November, Ethiopia demanded the recall of the Egyptian military attache, Lt. Col. Ahmed El Aziz Hilmi. The colonel was alleged to have sought recruits for the Egyptian army from among Ethiopian Moslems. He has not been replaced.

Ethiopian officials say Cairo propaganda stresses the alleged mistreatment of Moslems. The long-range aim of the subversive program, the Ethiopians charge, is detachment of these areas with a "Greater Somalia" subservient to Egypt.

To Be Independent.

Somalia, the former Italian Somaliland, will be fully independent when the United Nations trusteeship ends. Rather than see Ethiopia outflanked by an independent and probably hostile Moslem state, Emperor Haile Selassie has proposed federation of Somalia with his kingdom.

The Emperor appealed for vastly increased United States military aid to preserve Ethiopian independence.

The Emperor received this correspondent in the presence of the United States Ambassador, the Rev. Dr. Joseph Simonson. While the latter sat silently by, the Emperor said he had tried to impress on the Ambassador and on two United States generals the urgency of obtaining more arms quickly.

He was referring to Gen. George Decker, deputy commander of United States forces in Europe, and Lt. Gen. Clyde Eddleman, deputy chief of staff for operations. Gen. Decker had an audience with Haile Selassie Feb. 5, and Gen. Eddleman was received by Defense Minister Ras Abebe Aregay Feb. 6.

Both generals received a lengthy list of equipment wanted by Ethiopia, including jet fighters and tanks.

Priority Being Revised.

The Emperor is unlikely to get everything on his shopping list. Jets, for example, would be fantastically expensive to operate from Ethiopia's high altitude fields where take-offs require excessive fuel. But there are indications Ethiopia's priority rating is undergoing upward revision in Washington as a result of Suez developments.

The United States has agreed to provide the nucleus for an Ethiopian Red sea fleet. A submarine chaser is to be turned over to Ethiopia in March. Ten Ethiopian naval cadets are now aboard it at Bremerhaven, Germany. United States naval officials want to bring it through the Suez canal as the route around Africa is considered too long for a shake-down cruise.

The submarine and another patrol vessel Ethiopia will receive later will be employed for coast guard duties and will be based at Masawa. The submarine chaser, valued at $2,000,000, was an outright gift.

In all, Ethiopia has received $14,000,000 in military aid and $23,000,000 in economic and technical help in the last five years.

The amount of military aid the Emperor wants would run to about $80,000,000, according to informed sources. Although the generals may have found it fanciful in some respects, it was regarded as generally well reasoned and considerably more justifiable than previous Ethiopian requests.

PAKISTAN CALLS ON PACT ALLIES TO WATCH INDIA

Prime Minister Says He Expects Aid if Aggression Occurs Over Kashmir.

KARACHI, Feb. 16 (UP)—Prime Minister Suhrawardy tonight called on Pakistan's Southeast Asia and Baghdad pact allies to come to its aid in the event India takes "aggressive steps" in the Kashmir dispute.

In a 15-minute speech, Suhrawardy said every Pakistani would be prepared to "sacrifice to the utmost" to preserve the nation's independence.

Commenting on reports that India was massing large armed forces on Pakistan's borders, the Premier said:

"By the grace of God, Pakistan is now strong enough to defend itself from aggression and under terms of the Baghdad and Seato pacts our allies, some of whom are very powerful, are bound to come to our assistance in the case of aggression. I have no doubt they will."

Suhrawardy charged India was massing troops along the border in a possible effort to prevent the United Nations from considering the Kashmir issue "calmly" and to provoke border incidents.

Suhrawardy rejected yesterday a plea from Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to open direct negotiations with India on Kashmir.

Suhrawardy told newsmen he made it clear to Chou the only solution to the dispute over the princely state is by free vote of Kashmir's inhabitants.

MENON DERIDES MOVE ON KASHMIR

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb.16—V. K. Krishna Menon of India declared yesterday that the latest United Nations Security Council proposal for a settlement of the Kashmir dispute "has no value." He urged the council to cease its efforts along such lines.

This proposal, sponsored jointly by Britain, Cuba, Australia and the United States, would send Ambassador Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden to try to arrange a settlement between India and Pakistan. Jarring, who is president of the Security Council for February, would be charged to discuss with both parties certain proposals for the demilitarization of Kashmir.

The proposal makes it clear that the Council considers a plebiscite essential and says the Pakistani proposal for the use of a temporary U.N. force "would deserve consideration."

Menon said the use of such a force would be contrary to the U.N. Charter and a violation of India's sovereignty even if it was used only on the Pakistani side of the partition line since, he maintained, this territory is a part of India.

MAN STABBED TO DEATH BY WOMAN IN DISPUTE

George Jones, laborer, 1100 block of Walton avenue, was stabbed to death last night by Mrs. Edward Van, 2836A Franklin avenue, she told police.

Jones, 56 years old, a Negro, came to the Franklin avenue address to attempt to get his common-law wife to return to him, police said. She was staying with Mr. and Mrs. Van, also Negroes. In an argument in the hall outside the Van apartment, Jones threatened to stab Mrs. Van with a pocket knife, police were told. They said Jones had been drinking.

While Van grappled with Jones, Mrs. Van ran to the kitchen and returned with a butcher knife and stabbed Jones in the chest, police said.

ARMY HAS NEW EISENHOWER; ALSO CROSBY, CAPRA

CHICAGO, Feb. 16 (AP) — Earl D. Eisenhower Jr., 20 years old, the President's nephew, was sworn into the Army yesterday.

His father is Earl D. Eisenhower Sr., an executive of the Suburban Life newspapers and brother of the President.

Earl was a student at Pennsylvania State University for two years. Another uncle, Milton Eisenhower, was president of the university.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 (UP) —Two sons of noted fathers, the offspring of Bing Crosby and Frank Capra, were inducted into the Army yesterday.

The youths are 19-year-old Lindsay Crosby, youngest son of the crooner, and Frank Capra Jr., 23, son of the movie director. Both volunteered for military service and are being sent to Fort Ord, Calif., for basic training.

PLANS FOR LAUNCHING EARTH SATELLITE DISCUSSED HERE

Plans for launching an earth satellite and other aspects of the International Geophysical Year, which begins in July, were discussed at the St. Louis Academy of Science last night in a symposium conducted by three faculty members of the St. Louis University Institute of Technology.

Speakers were Ross R. Heinrich, director of the department of geophysics and geophysical engineering; Edward M. Brooks, professor of geophysics and geophysical engineering, and Carl Kisslinger, assistant professor in the same field. Kisslinger said 54 nations now had joined the effort to gather data on the earth and its relationship to the sun.

William Hartnett, president of the Weather Corp. of America, presented a $250 gift to the Institute of Technology. The gift, to be made annually, was in memory of the Rev. James B. Macelwane, former dean of the institute, who died last year. It will be used to establish a prize in an annual student contest for the best papers on meteorology.

BOSTON PUBLISHER INDICTED ON WAGE-FAILURE CHARGES

BOSTON, Feb. 16 (UP)—Former publisher John Fox was indicted yesterday on 299 counts of failing to pay $27,000 in wages due former employes of the defunct Boston Post.

The 93 indictments charged Fox with violating a state law making him personally responsible for non-payment of the wages. If convicted, Fox could be fined nearly $15,000 and jailed up to 48 years. The alleged non-payment to 93 former employes occurred last August just before the Post suspended publication for the last time.

Fox has been president and treasurer of the Post Publishing Co. since taking over in 1952. A federal judge has indicated the 125-year-old Democratic daily will be declared legally bankrupt unless Fox puts up $35,000 to show his "good faith" in a promise to spend $1,500,000 to revive the newspaper. The money was to be posted Thursday, but Fox was granted a two-week extension.

SWEET POTATO PLANTS DROPPED AT SOUTH POLE

McMURDO SOUND, Antarctica, Feb. 16 (AP)—A bit of green from tropical Hawaii is growing at the South Pole.

The men at the snow-covered United States scientific outpost yearned for a living plant. So yesterday a United States Air Force Globemaster dropped them several sprouting sweet potatoes, the gift of Hawaii's Oahu Chamber of Commerce.

Other items parachuted to the lonely base included an alarm clock, toothpicks and a kitchen sink.

QUEEN ELIZABETH REUNITED WITH DUKE IN PORTUGAL

She chatted for a moment with Dr. Cunha and then moved forward to be presented to other personalities who had come to greet her. Among them were the ambassadors of Britain, Canada, Pakistan and South Africa.

After the presentation the Queen entered a Rolls Royce limousine which had been provided by Gen. Higino Craveiro Lopes, president of Portugal. It flew the royal standard from the hood.

The sun shone brightly at the airfield for the Queen's arrival, after earlier light showers.

The Queen's state visit begins Monday morning in a reaffirmation of the 600-year-old British-Portuguese alliance. It is the first such visit by a reigning British sovereign since that of her great-grandfather, Edward VII, in 1904. The state visit is to last until Wednesday night.

The Queen and the Duke will break their return trip to London with a short stopover Thursday in Oporto for lunch with officials of that center of the port wine industry.

A party of 25, including Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, arrived with the Queen.

Smiling happily, the British Queen was seen off by her Prime Minister, Harold Macmillan, at London airport. The departure was simple and without protocol.

Princess Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth did not see Elizabeth off. They attended the Eridge hunt meet today, 40 miles outside London.

The Duke arrived this morning on the Britannia, which carried him to Australia for the Olympic games and to other British Commonwealth points in the South Pacific and South Atlantic on a trip that began last Oct. 15.

NEW NAUTILUS COMMANDER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (UP) —Comdr. William R. Anderson has been chosen as the next commanding officer of the Navy's atomic-powered submarine Nautilus.

Navy sources said Anderson is expected to take over from Capt. Eugene Wilkinson, the Nautilus's first commanding officer, in mid-July. Anderson now is assigned to the reactor development division of the Navy's atomic energy division.

NEUTRAL REICH SCHEMES DRAW ADENAUER BLAST

Chancellor Fears Ollenhauer Proposals Would Leave Europe at Mercy of Reds.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

BONN, Feb. 16 — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer yesterday bitterly attacked schemes for neutralizing Germany and a substantial part of the rest of Europe that are circulating in some quarters in the United States.

Dr. Adenauer's attack was seen, in part, as a move to torpedo a European security system plan for German reunification being propagated by West Germany's Social Democratic leader Erich Ollenhauer on his current visit to the United States.

Adenauer is concerned that Ollenhauer may succeed in popularizing a plan which would sever the Bonn republic's military ties with the West. In Adenauer's view, the Ollenhauer proposals would ultimately leave Europe at the mercy of the Soviet Union.

Denial By Ollenhauer.

Ollenhauer has denied that his plan would mean the neutralization of Germany and other parts of Europe, but Adenauer and many others here believe that this is precisely what it would mean.

They find alarming points of similarity between Ollenhauer's proposals and the European security system urged by former Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at the Berlin conference of 1954.

Adenauer said yesterday that "it is very dangerous to play with the idea of a neutral Germany and a neutral Europe. Europe would be left lying close up to Russia and far from the United States. This is against the primary interests of the United States and all freedom-loving nations."

"I know that the United States Government is against this. I am convinced that a great majority of American people are also against it."

'Will Not Go Along.'

Noting that his Christian Democratic party represents a substantial part of the German people, he added emphatically, "We (Christian Democrats) will not go along with this idea and it cannot be done against our will."

Speaking at a Foreign Press Association luncheon, Adenauer, who is 81 years old, said that the political tide here is again swinging in his party's favor with the approach of next September's elections.

He cited a public opinion poll which showed the following results:

In December, 45 per cent in favor of the Social Democrats, and the Adenauer party trailing with 39 per cent. In January and part of February, the Adenauer forces were found to be surging ahead with 43 per cent, and the Social Democrats falling back to 38 per cent.

Adenauer said "we will continue on the upgrade."

SENATE INQUIRY ON ROSS LIKELY TO BE DROPPED

McClellan Accepts Ex-Official's Statement That He Did Not Violate Law.

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16— Robert Tripp Ross's statement that he had violated no conflict-of-interest laws as assistant Secretary of Defense was accepted by Senator John L. McClellan yesterday.

"Insofar as I know, he is correct in saying he has done nothing illegal," reporters were told by the Arkansas Democrat, who directed an investigation that led to Ross's resignation.

"Whether he did anything improper is a matter of opinion," the Senator added. He indicated, however, that he saw no need for the Senate permanent investigating subcommittee, of which he is chairman, to go into the matter further.

He said he probably would recommend that the panel drop the case, barring "further developments," if a House government operations subcommittee decides to follow up with a full investigation of military contract-letting procedures involving companies headed by Ross's wife and brother-in-law.

No Decision Yet.

The House panel, headed by Representative Chet Holifield (Dem.), California, is expected to make a decision on completion of a preliminary staff inquiry, perhaps in a week or so.

"The case is not closed insofar as our subcommittee is concerned," Holifield said. "I am not in a position to tell you today whether we will go ahead."

He said he was awaiting a report from Herbert Toback, staff director, who was in New York today with Earl J. Morgan, chief investigator, to examine records of Wynn Enterprises, Inc.

The company, of which Mrs. Ross is president, obtained an $835,150 contract last November for the manufacture of Army trousers.

The House subcommittee's staff is seeking to determine whether proper procurement procedures were followed in the awarding of this and about $11,500,000 of other military clothing contracts obtained by Wynn Enterprises and affiliated companies in the past six years. Mrs. Ross's brother, Herman D. (Breezy) Wynn of Knoxville, Tenn., holds controlling or major interests in all of the concerns involved.

Avenue Wilson Renamed.

PARTHENAY, France, Feb. 16 (UP)—The name of President Wilson was dropped from the street directory here yesterday in favor of Suez canal builder Ferdinand de Lesseps. The municipal council voted to rename the Avenue Wilson the Avenue Ferdinand de Lesseps.

LESLIE HORE-BELISHA

LORD HORE-BELISHA COLLAPSES AND DIES

Britain's Ex-Secretary of War Stricken During Speech in France.

REIMS, France, Feb. 16 (AP) — Lord Leslie Hore-Belisha, former British Secretary of War, collapsed here today while making a speech and died a short time later in Reims Hospital. He was 63 years old.

He was visiting this cathedral city, where the World War II surrender of Germany was signed in 1945, as chairman of a British parliamentary group touring France. A member of the House of Commons for many years, he had served as transport minister and minister of national insurance as well as in the war post from 1937 to 1940. He was made a baron in 1954.

He was known for originating the London traffic signals known as "Belisha beacons."

In recent years, he had been little in the public eye. But as early as 1954 he forecast trouble over the Suez canal and urged that atomic power be used to balst a new waterway from the Mediterranean to the Gulf of Aqaba as an alternative route.

"It is dangerous that we should be dependent on a single artery for our vital supplies," he told a London meeting.

TOSCANINI'S BODY TO ITALY

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)— Accompanied by his son and a daughter, the body of Arturo Toscanini, famed conductor, leaves here by plane today for Italy.

Walter Toscanini and Countess Castelbarco, the maestro's son and daughter, and Miss Anita Colombo will accompany the body on the flight to Rome, and on to Milan, where the burial will take place. Mrs. Vladimir Horowitz, another daughter of the maestro, will make the trip to Italy by ship.

SENATOR SEEKS FBI REPORTS ON DENIAL OF RIGHTS

Brownell Offers to Seek Release of Data Backing Testimony on Negro Voting.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) —Attorney General Herbert Brownell, admittedly "nettled" by questions from Senator Sam J. Ervin (Dem.), North Carolina, offered today to try to make public Federal Bureau of Investigation reports to support his testimony that some Southern Negroes have been denied the right to vote.

Ervin was questioning Brownell for the third day at a Senate Judiciary subcommittee hearing on the Eisenhower Administration's civil rights program.

Under the proposed legislation, the Attorney General would be authorized to seek federal court injunctions to protect voting rights and other civil rights.

Ervin has insisted that Brownell had failed to show any necessity for such a "drastic" remedy.

Brownell, at the outset of his testimony, said the legislation would enable the Government to deal effectively with what he called attempts at "mass disenfranchisement of Negroes." As examples, he said there had been discriminatory practices against Negroes by local election officials in three North Carolina precincts.

Ervin asked today if it would be possible for the subcommittee to see the FBI reports on which Brownell said he had based his testimony, "so that we can see if the inferences you have drawn are correct."

Brownell replied that he had given a factual summary of the FBI reports. Ervin said he was sure the Attorney General had done so but that it was possible that he, Ervin, might draw different inferences from them.

Ervin said it did not seem quite "cricket" for a public official to see FBI reports and interpret them and not let others see the reports and see if they agreed with those inferences.

Brownell said he was "a little nettled" by Ervin's remarks. He added he would see if he could obtain the consent of the persons interviewed by the FBI to make the reports public.

If their consent can be obtained, he said he thought it would be permissible to make the reports public and place them in the subcommittee record.

GEEKIE REVERSES SELF, WON'T FILE CHARGE AGAINST BAR PROPRIETOR

Cancels Order for Warrant—Agrees Losing Liquor License Would Be Too Severe a Penalty.

The prosecuting attorney's office, reversing itself for the second time in two days, decided yesterday not to prosecute John Medich, tavern operator, for an alleged liquor law violation.

Prosecuting Attorney William J. Geekie, who had overruled an assistant Thursday and ordered issuance of a warrant against Medich, announced he had changed his mind and said prosecution will not be instituted.

The original refusal to issue a warrant was made by Assistant Proseuting Attorney John J. Godfrey. When the Post-Dispatch sought an explanation for Godfrey's action, Geekie directed that a warrant be issued.

Explaining his latest decision, the prosecuting attorney said he was not aware that Godfrey had acted on instructions of First Associate Prosecuting Attorney Jasper R. Vettori.

Might Lose License.

Geekie stated he now agreed with Vettori that Medich should not be prosecuted because the tavern owner would lose his liquor license if convicted and the offense involved only the selling of liquor 20 minutes after the legal closing hour.

Police of the liquor squad bought a half-pint of whisky at Medich's tavern, 1800 Geyer avenue, from the bartender, Justo Kacich, after the closing hour Dec. 9.

The officers who made the arrest reported the bartender had consulted Medich before selling the liquor and they quoted Medich as saying he had consented to the sale.

Kacich was fined $50 in the Court of Criminal Correction, but no warrant was issued against Medich.

Another Warrant Dropped.

Vettori yesterday dismissed a warrant against another tavern operator—the sixth charge involving alleged violations of liquor laws he has nol-prossed in the last six months.

A warrant charging John Marusic with selling liquor on Sunday in his tavern at 1338 Franklin avenue was dismissed by Vettori on the ground that a $50 police court fine and a seven-day suspension by the State Supervisor of Liquor Control were adequate punishment for Marusic.

The tavern operator was arrested Dec. 23 after a member of the police liquor squad bought a half-pint of whisky in the establishment. Marusic admitted the offense at a hearing at which the Liquor Control Supervisor imposed the suspension. A concurrent four-day suspension was ordered by the St. Louis Excise Commissioner.

"Further prosecution of Marusic would become persecution," Vettori said in dismissing the warrant. "It has been the policy of our office for many years to drop prosecution in liquor or gambling cases where it appears that adequate punishment has been given for the same offense."

NO 'CRACKDOWN' ON DRIVERS WHO LEAVE KEYS IN AUTOS

H. Sam Priest, president of the Board of Police Commissioners, denied today published reports that the police department plans to "crack down" on motorists who park their cars and leave the keys in them or the ignition unlocked.

The suggestion that police put stickers on unlocked and unattended parked automobiles as a warning to owners to lock them in the future was looked upon by veterans of the automobile theft squad as an invitation to a thief to steal it.

One officer said: "You might as well print on the stickers: 'I'm unlocked. Please steal me.'" Priest said the department would do what it could to educate the public to lock their automobiles, but that no drastic steps were planned.

WOMAN REPORTS ASSAULT BY MAN ARMED WITH KNIFE

A woman was assaulted last night by a man who threatened her with a knife and then knocked her down in the 1300 block of Lami street, she reported to police.

The victim, a 38-year-old waitress, said the man, a Negro, held the knife against her throat and forced her to accompany him into an alley.

UAW SUPPORTS RAT BILL AMENDMENTS

Backs Teamsters in Fighting City Proposal for Discretionary Powers.

Another St. Louis labor group joined the Teamsters Union yesterday in its fight with Dr. J. Earl Smith, City Health Commissioner, over proposed amendments to the rat control bill.

Russell Letner, regional director of the United Auto Workers, in a letter to Dr. Smith criticized the commissioner's suggestion that the Teamsters are trying "to run the city."

"Apparently you seem to be trying to become the Charley 'Foot-in-Mouth' Wilson of St. Louis," Letner wrote Smith.

Citing various public welfare measures for which unions have worked, Letner asserted that "the welfare of the unions is inextricably tied in with the welfare of the community."

A strict rat control law, strictly enforced, is essential to the health of all citizens, Letner wrote. The proposed rat control bill amendments, supported by the unions, would take away discretionary enforcement powers which the bill would vest in the health commissioner. Dr. Smith strongly opposes the amendments.

A public hearing on the amendments, requested by Dr. Smith, will be held at City Hall Feb. 27 at 8 p.m., Alderman DeWitte T. Lawson, chairman of the aldermanic public welfare committee, announced yesterday.

ST. LOUIS LAWYER CHOSEN CURATOR AT MISSOURI U.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 16 Robert J. Neill, St. Louis attorney, was named to the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri yesterday by Gov. James T. Blair in place of James S. Bush, St. Louis banker, who did not seek reappointment for another six-year term.

Neill, 5056 Westminster place, is a partner in the law firm of Thompson, Mitchell, Thompson & Douglas and is counsel for the Missouri Bankers Association. He is president of the Law Library Association of St. Louis. A graduate of the University of Missouri and Harvard Law School, he is 48 years old, married and has a son and daughter.

The other two curators of the nine-member board whose terms expired last Jan. 1 were renamed. They are Lester E. Cox, Springfield, and J. A. Daggs, Memphis. All three men are Democrats. The law provides that not more than five of the nine can be members of one political party.

FUNERAL SERVICES MONDAY FOR ROGER W. STOUGHTON

Funeral services for Roger W. Stoughton, an organic research chemist for Mallinckrodt Chemical Works, will be Monday at 2 p.m. at Friedens Evangelical and Reformed Church, Nineteenth street and Newhouse avenue. Burial will be in Friedens Cemetery.

Mr. Stoughton, 51 years old, died Thursday of cancer at a nursing home. He lived at 4552 Ruskin avenue. He was a graduate of Middlebury College with a bachelor of science degree. He received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Illinois. He was a contributor to chemical journals. In 1955, Mr. Stoughton was chairman of the St. Louis Section of the American Chemical Society. He was a member of the finance commission of the Metropolitan Church Federation.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Virginia C. Stoughton; his father, the Rev. Lewis H. Stoughton, and a sister, Mrs. Arthur Westfall, both of Delmar, N.Y.

RUBBISH FIRE SPREADS TO A VACANT BUILDING

Fire which started in a rubbish pile behind 4648-50 Easton avenue spread to a vacant building at 4646 Easton yesterday, causing damage of $150.

Fire Chief Hugh F. Lyon said that some cans of paint thinner in the rubbish pile apparently caught fire and the flaming liquid ran down an alley setting fire to the building at 4646 Easton. Damage to the building was estimated by the chief at $100 and to the contents at $50.

Traffic was stopped for several blocks in the area as firemen extinguished the flames.

The Webster Groves Chamber of Commerce filed a damage suit yesterday against a St. Louis display firm, alleging that the papir-mache candy canes the chamber put on light standards and utility poles as decorations last Christmas collapsed.

In 1955, when the canes were first strung in the Webster Groves business district to stimulate Christmas shopping, they proved satisfactory, but the weather in that period was "clear and dry," the petition stated.

Last season, it was a different story, the Chamber of Commerce said, claiming that the 66 large canes "collapsed and became unusable" when they were displayed in November.

As a result, suit was filed in circuit court for $1250 against Sellinger Display Inc., 714 North Thirteenth street, alleging breach of a five-year warranty. The canes cost $1252.

THOUSANDS RUSH TO BEAT DEADLINE ON AUTO STICKERS

Motorists crowded the rotunda of City Hall today, the deadline for buying 1957 city automobile license stickers. More than 3000 license stickers were sold in the first hour and by noon about 6000 had been sold, clerks reported. Police will start arresting motorists without stickers Monday.

Sales of the 1957 license stickers up to noon today amounted to $186,000. Last year at the close of the deadline for buying stickers sales were $178,000, it was said.

Lines of car owners stretched out of the doors at City Hall and down the steps. Automobiles moved slowly around the block and were often two abreast in Market and Twelfth streets. The license office will close at 5 p.m.

This also is the deadline for new voters to register to vote in the March 5 and April 2 elections. Also it is the deadline for registered voters, who have moved from one address to another, to transfer their registration. Those who move after today must report to the Election Commissioners' office, 208 South Twelfth street, in person by Feb. 23.

JEFFERSON CITY TAPS FLOW

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 16 (UP)—Water was flowing from the taps in Jefferson City again today after a 24-hour shutdown due to sand seepage at a pumping station. The shutoff was caused by low water in the Missouri river and a channel change.

Public schools and Lincoln University dismissed classes yesterday and at least one industrial plant, the Tweedie shoe factory, shut down because of the discomforts or lack of sufficient heat from steam pipes.

FESTUS MAN KILLED WHEN CAR HITS POLE

Apparently Failed to Make Curve on Road Near Home.

Thomas L. Cole of Route 2, Festus, was killed early last night when the automobile he was driving struck a utility pole on Jefferson county Route CC about one mile south of Festus, the Missouri Highway Patrol reported.

Cole, 35 years old, a tavern operator, was the only occupant of the machine, which was southbound near his home. He apparently failed to negotiate a curve and ran off the east side of the road, officers said.

Cole was married and had two children.

Samuel Hedge, truck driver, 6310 Washington avenue, Berkeley, was seriously injured last night when the truck he was driving ran into the rear of another truck which was waiting for a traffic signal to change at Natural Bridge and Arlington avenues.

Hedge was trapped in the cab of the truck, and police and firemen spent half an hour extricating him. He suffered head and internal injuries and lacerations of the face. Driver of the other truck was Noel Richardson, Boonville, Mo.

PERJURY CHARGES AGAINST POLICE SERGEANT DROPPED

Two perjury indictments against Police Sgt. James Cook, who was acquitted Thursday by a circuit court jury of a charge of assault with intent to kill his brother-in-law, Ben Willis, in a beating when arresting him more than two years ago, were nole prossed yesterday in the court of Circuit Judge Robert L. Aronson.

George Draper II, chief trial assistant, said if the perjury case were tried the same witness who testified in the assault case would have to be called. Since the officer was acquitted, he said, he did not think Sgt. Cook would be found guilty of perjury.

Willis, a Negro, charged that Sgt. Cook and Cpl. Creston Nance, also Negroes, handcuffed him and beat him Sept. 2, 1954, after he had a dispute with his sister, who is Mrs. Cook. He said his automobile was stopped and the officers asked if he had a revolver in his machine. The beating followed, he related.

AMMONIA FUMES FORCE HOTEL GUESTS TO FLEE

10 Persons Treated — Sheraton - Jefferson Operators Keep Elevators Running.

Ten persons were treated for the effects of ammonia inhalation yesterday when an ammonia pipe was broken in the subbasement of the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel and fumes seeped up air ducts to the 800 rooms driving some guests and visitors to the lobby and street. One of those overcome remained at City Hospital today.

None of the guests was among persons overcome. Hotel employes, including the elevator operators, stayed at their posts and assisted in evacuating guests. The elevator operators ran their cars with tears streaming down their faces. The fumes were more dense on the upper floors.

Harvey Fenster, one of the partners in the Sam Fenster Iron & Metal Co., with two employes, J. C. Jones, 1345 Glasgow avenue, and John Hickens, 2803 Dayton street, were removing an electric motor from the floor in the subbasement by cutting bolts with an acetylene torch. When the motor became loose, it fell against the ammonia pipe, breaking it.

Torch Starts Fire.

A flash fire was caused by the torch. Fumes spread rapidly through air ducts to the 12 floors of the building. Fenster, Jones and Hickens escaped without serious injuries. Hickens struck his head on a steam pipe while getting out, but refused treatment.

Robert Woodward, a porter, 4532 Evans avenue, was changing clothes in a nearby locker room. He saw the smoke and noticed the fumes and called a room clerk, who summoned firemen. Woodward was found by firemen crawling from the locker room. He was the most seriously affected by the fumes and remained at City Hospital.

Others treated at the hospital were Fireman Alois Lammert, 4646 Alexander avenue, who became unconscious while attempting to stop the ammonia leak; Fireman Joseph Green and Patrolman Thomas Baxter.

Those treated at the scene by a City Hospital attendant were Fire Capt. Edward Siebels, Firemen Edward Dietz and Draper Brickham; Fred Charlwood, hotel maintenance man; Charles Thomasson, assistant bell captain, and Raymond McMillin, bellhop.

Fire Chief Hugh Lyon estimated damage at $1000 to the contents and $250 to the building.

The break in the pipe occurred about 3 p.m. Many luncheon guests, bar patrons and visitors looking at convention exhibits were driven from the hotel. Members of a group from the Baton Rouge (La.) Chamber of Commerce, here on a goodwill tour, were routed from their rooms by Opie L. Shelton, executive vice president of the chamber, who was in the lobby at the time the break occurred. He said he telephoned about 30 rooms, occupied by members of his group.

Mrs. W. D. Llewellyn, a permanent guest of the hotel, who uses crutches, was assisted from the building by firemen. Another woman guest on the twelfth floor said the fumes made her ill. She asked that a physician be called.

BAR IS ROBBED OF $9202 BY MEN IN FALSE FACES

4 Thieves Steal Check-Cashing Money From Proprietor and Hold Up Customers.

Joseph Stuecken, operator of the Farmers Bar, 121 Angelica street, and four customers were held up late yesterday by four armed men, who fled in an automobile with $9202.

The robbers, wearing blue and white coveralls, caps and Halloween masks, entered the establishment at 4 p.m. with drawn revolvers. One man stood near the door, and fired a shot into the ceiling. Another ordered Stuecken to come out from behind the bar.

Cash drawers behind the bar yielded $8650 which Stuecken had drawn from a bank to cash pay checks for employes of a nearby stockyards and other neighborhood industries. Ira Tucker, a truck driver, 8758 Rosalie avenue, Brentwood, tried to hide his wallet, containing $500, in the waistband of his trousers. The wallet slipped down his leg to the floor, where a robber scooped it up.

Jessie Craig, another customer, 2651 Spruce street, had cashed his pay check for $42. One of the men picked the money off the bar, then snatched a $10 bill from the hand of Joseph Cooper, a customer, 2440 Carr street. Pocketing the loot, the robbers ran to a cream and tan colored Oldsmobile bearing an Iowa license, and drove north in Second street.

Mrs. Mildred Randolph, 8229 Idaho avenue, reported to police she was walking in the 7100 block of South Broadway on her way to a restaurant last midnight when she was seized by two men, who fled with her purse containing $353. Mrs. Randolph, 27 years old, said she carried the cash because she was unable to lock the front door to her home.

Albert Midman, an insurance salesman, 5815 Delmar boulevard, was seized in the 3000 block of Sheridan avenue last night by two Negroes, who took his wallet containing about $80.

Mrs. Carrie Francis, a Negro, 4433A Delmar boulevard, was robbed of $83 last night at Taylor avenue and Delmar boulevard by two men, who grabbed her purse. The robbers were Negroes.

Police Lt. Joseph Payeur, cruising in Magnolia Avenue District at 3 a.m. today saw two youths trying to enter a sidewalk entrance to the basement of a tavern at 3800 Chouteau avenue. Payeur stopped his machine and arrested the pair, one 18 years old, the other 17. Burglary warrants will be sought.

MRS. ALEXANDER S. LANGSDORF

MRS. LANGSDORF AT 76 FILES FOR ALDERMANIC SEAT

Mrs. Alexander S. Langsdorf, 76-year-old grandmother, filed yesterday as a candidate for election to the Clayton board of aldermen. Six aldermen will be chosen April 2.

The wife of the dean emeritus of the Washington University engineering school, she is a former state representative and the first woman elected to the Missouri Legislature from St. Louis.

Mrs. Langsdorf is a board member of the Urban League of St. Louis and the Missouri Welfare League. She is a past president of the St. Louis Council for Child Study and Parent Education and a former president of the Women's Club of Washington University.

The Langsdorf home is at 7526 Byron place. They have five grandchildren.

MRS. J. SHEPPARD SMITH'S ESTATE VALUED AT $482,845

Mrs. J. Sheppard Smith, widow of the former president of the old Mississippi Valley Trust Co., left an estate of $482,845, it was shown in an appraiser's report filed yesterday in probate court. Mrs. Smith, the former Sunie Cabanne, died a year ago in Milwaukee, Wis., where she had been living for 28 years.

Principal items in the estate were bonds valued at $116,956; stocks, $359,199, and cash, $3869. After deductions totaling $125,052, including $106,100 in federal estate taxes, the net value of the estate was given as $357,793.

Under terms of her will the estate is distributed in equal shares, amounting to $84,448 each, among three sons and a daughter. These are C. Cabanne Smith of Houston, Tex., J. Sheppard Smith Jr., Ellsworth F. Smith and Mrs. Mary Ambrose Birdsall, all of St. Louis.

EX-HUSBAND SHOOTS WOMAN, HIMSELF FATALLY

Shooting Occurs After Quarrel in Home of Daughter in Moline Acres.

Mrs. Joseph Metz, 61 years old, was shot and killed last night by her former husband, who then shot himself at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mueller, 9816 Omega drive, Moline Acres.

Metz, 58 years old, a retired milk wagon driver, died on arrival at St. Louis County Hospital. Mrs. Metz was pronounced dead at the scene. The Metzes were divorced about three years ago.

Mrs. Mueller told police she had dinner at a restaurant with her parents, who had occupied separate rooms in her home since last November. Her parents quarreled, and continued the argument in the living room of the Mueller home. The daughter said she was in the kitchen with her husband about 10 o'clock when a shot rang out in the living room. She saw her mother crumple to the floor.

Mueller, a bank teller, and his wife, ran toward Metz, who pointed a .32-caliber revolver at Mrs. Metz's body. He pulled the trigger, but the weapon misfired. Metz ran to his bedroom.

Moline Acres Marshal Anthony Hanebrink arrived at the home a few minutes later in response to a telephone call from Mueller. He went to the door of Metz's room and identified himself. There was a shot, and Metz was found, wounded in the right temple, on the floor.

Mrs. Mueller said her parents had frequent arguments since they came to live at her home, but there had been no previous violence. An inquest will be held.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Word in Time

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Of all the cheery news filtering out of St. Louis lately, none is more uplifting than the word that Speck's Restaurant—that great oasis for the duodenum—is about to be reborn.

The men behind this civic strike for gastronomy are stout fellows all, and I am hesitant to heckle them, even from a safe distance. Still, I am a little worried. And as an ex-St. Louisan who was introduced to Kaffeeklatsch Society at the Speck's on Locust street, I suspect that I retain the rights of the habitue emeritus.

Whatever you do, gentlemen, don't tinker with the menu. All over the globe there are men, sorely tried by life each day, who could probably not stand it if they were to return to St. Louis some noon, go to Speck's for cottage cheese and have it served to them without the chives.

Other possible indiscretions—like maybe adding vegetables to the beef stew—would certainly be resented by the local trade as well.

A word about the desserts. Kindly do not imagine for one minute that you will be able to introduce factory-processed apple pie or equivalent outrages at the new Speck's and get away with it. The temptations may be powerful, especially in view of the $50,000 you are being asked to fork over to make Speck's once more a living thing. Resist the pressure! Fight it to the last debenture!

If the cream puffs (Mohrenkoepfe) and hazelnut tarts (Nusstoertchen) must be subsidized, I trust that the ghosts of Pierre Laclede and Henry Ziegenhein will not find you wanting.

It may help, at least in spirit, to know that I lunched last month at Demel's patisserie in Vienna, supposedly the ultimate in coffee houses, and that the Nusstorte there was a good try. That's all, gentlemen. Just a good try compared to the Speck's I knew.

Then the atmosphere, gentlemen. I know you are aware of its importance, but perhaps you are too close to the scene to value it fully. Speck's, as I remember it, was a place of repose: an exclusive club where you could belong for half a dollar or less a day; a soapbox where you could listen to the conversation or play deaf; a seriously deficient enterprise that you could complain about and feel better—just as you might complain about your wife or an ancient car you refuse to trade in.

It was, briefly, human. It was civilized.

So please, gentlemen, don't clutter it up with more attractions or speedier waitresses; or with healthful diet luncheons; or with other concessions to the pear-and-mayonnaise school.

The joint will never pay a dividend, I venture, but it'll be a good place to come back to.

PETER H. WYDEN.

Who Decides What?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

One of your recent Washington reports on President Eisenhower's pressure on the oil industry to supply Europe makes this interesting observation: "Last Friday Hugh A. Stewart, director of the Interior Department's office of oil and gas, indicated that the White House had decided Mr. Eisenhower should not at that time try to exert pressure to speed the lagging oil lift."

The question of European oil shortage does not alarm me at this moment nearly so much as this: Since when has the White House been deciding what the President shall decide or do? Who is Mr. Hugh Stewart? I do not recall anyone voting for him or a "White House" as Chief Executive last fall.

ROBERT M. RODNEY.

What 7-7-1 Will Do

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Hooray for Mr. Dwyer! Hooray for Freeholders Weiss, Pflager and Einstein for their reconsideration of the 7-7-1 plan.

There are many Negroes who favor this plan because it will provide a splendid opportunity to elect a representative at large; one who will have a universal interest. By the same token the 7-7-1 plan will silence the voice of biased men who have so long stagnated our progress. Forward St. Louis with a smaller and better Board of Aldermen.

INTERESTED VOTER.

North Side High School?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

We of northwest St. Louis would like to call your attention to the vital need of a high school in northwest St. Louis. For the whole north St. Louis area we have exactly one high school, namely Beaumont High.

Beaumont is located on the extreme southeast corner of the district.

Some of the students attending Beaumont from the northwest area must travel as far as 10½ miles to and from school. Traveling this distance on Public Service Co. transportation puts these teen-agers on the already overloaded busses at the early morning rush hours.

A more centrally located high school would in our opinion, reduce the time, miles and money spent by at least 1000 students per semester.

MRS. K. E. BUSCH.

Humiliating Is Right

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

State Representative Tyus is right. It is humiliating to be arrested, whether it is for selling lottery tickets (his big worry) or for speeding or burglary. It is the same difference. And that suggests that maybe we need a new representative in Jefferson City from Mr. Tyus's district.

A. KINZEL.

Press and the Prisoners

The adamant attitude of the State Department against allowing American correspondents to go to Communist China and report the facts as they see them has become barnacled with mumbo-jumbo and discrepancies. This attitude is giving rise to embarrassing questions and to indignant protests.

No one will deny that release of the 10 unfortunate American prisoners held in Peiping is eagerly desired in this country. And it is hard to deny that America would be better informed if her correspondents were allowed to report objectively on conditions in Red China. The trouble stems from Secretary of State Dulles's having entwined the issue of the prisoners with the issue of what a free press can and cannot do.

When Peiping issued its invitation to American reporters last August, Secretary Dulles objected on the ground the Government could not protect them while they were in Red China. The press expected no protection. Next, Secretary Dulles held that the reporters could not go until the prisoners were freed. But what authority did he have to bargain with the right of the American press to go about its duty? And now Secretary Dulles is ruling that the reporters cannot go into Red China because then the prisoners would be released and that would amount to submitting to blackmail. Is this confusion to be worse confounded?

All this has resulted in members of Congress, including Senators Monroney of Oklahoma and Hennings of Missouri, demanding that Secretary Dulles clear up the situation. And strong objections also have come from such groups as the American Newspaper Guild, the American Newspaper Publishers Association and belatedly the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Senator Hennings puts it pithily when he says in a letter to Secretary Dulles that the State Department policy is "clearly contrary to our nation's best interests." In this letter Senator Hennings invites Secretary Dulles to appear before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee on constitutional rights and give "a personal expression of your rather unusual views" on the whole issue. If Secretary Dulles has a genuine grasp of the situation and is desirous of seeing the fog dispelled, then he will accept the invitation.

If he refuses and otherwise allows the fog to remain, he can expect criticism to mount. Illustrative of the doubts, there is Senator Monroney's speech in the Senate in which he asked if there was danger of a "climate" in which publishers and broadcasters would no longer feel they had freedom of the press. He told the Senate that he had reference to a Columbia Broadcasting System decision to keep off the air a news analysis of the reporter-prisoner issue by Eric Sevareid on the ground that it was too editorial.

This would be bad enough if it were only an administrative muddle. But it is infinitely worse than that because of the fundamental principles that are involved.

An Independent Extension

The Illinois Farmers' Union is moving in the public interest in demanding complete independence for the Agricultural Extension Service.

County extension agents are now and long have been dependent upon the Illinois Agricultural Association, a part of the American Farm Bureau Federation. As in other states, this has led to the politicalizing of county agents and to use of the extension service as part of the national farm lobby which the Farm Bureau operates at Washington.

All this impairs the services the farmer receives. It victimizes taxpayers by forcing them to help support a lobby working on behalf of the special interests of a small segment of the public. No such results were intended or even foreseen when the extension system was set up and the Farm Bureau first got its hooks in.

But the opportunity to make the county agent a sort of rural ward heeler was too tempting to resist, and it will take persistent effort to break up this unseemly alliance of private lobby and public funds.

Shades of Tom and Huck!

Those never-to-be-forgotten boy friends of ours, Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer, were really juvenile delinquents, Dr. William J. Von Lackum, director of the Gailor Psychiatric Hospital's Child Guidance Clinic, said in a talk at Memphis. He made this remark in a speech pointing out that youngsters today do not have the chance to let off steam that boys of yesteryear had.

We are a bit baffled by what Dr. Van Lackum is reported to have stated on both these points. True, there is not so much chance today for a boy "to run off and go fishing," but can a boy not let off steam at a basketball game, participating in the Boy Scouts or in some of the many extra-curricular school activities? And why slander Tom and Huck by putting them in a class with the juvenile delinquents of today?

When it comes to delinquency, Tom and Huck went to a school that was Spartan compared to the present day schools. Who could blame them for playing hookey? And when they did play hookey they spent their time in harmless, pleasurable pursuits. They did not return to the school in the night, as often happens now, to indulge in senseless vandalism.

The delinquencies of Tom and Huck never came anywhere near constituting crime. Perhaps if some of today's generation who have difficulty in letting off steam would read about Tom and Huck they might pick up some excellent ideas on how to be delightfully acceptable "delinquents."

Stopping a False Economy

The Government has "temporarily" suspended its lease-purchase construction program which covered several buildings planned for the St. Louis area. The reason given for the action is a request by President Eisenhower for the postponement of all work, with the exception of that on schools, highways and housing, lest the competition for labor and materials add to inflationary pressures.

That is a good reason, but even a better one is that this means at least a temporary halt in an unwarranted burden on the taxpayer. The lease-purchase plan makes the annual federal budget look better because a year's rent on a new building is bound to be considerably less than its total cost. But the cost of ultimate acquisition, although spread over a number of years, is sure to be considerably higher than if the Government itself put up the building in the first place. After all, the investor who builds it must pay the bills, and he must make a profit on the transaction. And that profit can come only from the taxpayer.

If the Government—like many an individual—were unable to finance the construction, there might be an excuse for the lease-purchase system. But that is hardly the case. So this time-payment plan is only a questionable budget device, and a deceptive one since it tends to conceal the ultimate cost.

Don't Wreck the Juvenile Code

Opposition to the proposed new Missouri juvenile code is taking curious turns.

Some members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which has the measure in hand, object to raising the age level of youths under the jurisdiction of the juvenile courts from 16 to 17, on the grounds that it would overload the courts.

The juvenile judges, while granting that their work would be increased, are ready and willing to take the cases of 17-year-olds, as evidenced by the approval which their Missouri Council has given to the proposed new code.

Which should be better able to judge on this point—the members of the Judiciary Committee, or the judges who would do the work?

Another objection raised to the 17-year age limit is that it would increase the expenses of the state. What should be the governing consideration here, saving expenses or saving our youth?

Seventeen-year-olds should be transferred to the jurisdiction of the juvenile courts because they can thus stand a better chance of being salvaged for useful lives. Missouri is one of only 12 states which still do not deal with 17-year-olds in juvenile court.

Senator Edgar J. Keating, Kansas City Democrat, raised objection to giving the juvenile courts jurisdiction over youths charged with violating traffic laws and other municipal ordinances. He said a juvenile court should not be required to act as "a police court in handling a lot of trivial traffic cases."

Once again, Senator Keating's views about what juvenile courts should do, and apparently his views about what is or is not trivial as well, differ from the views of the juvenile judges. Some of the traffic complaints may be trivial in themselves but they are highly important when they represent the first inclinations of a growing youngster to get off the track.

The Missouri bar has joined the Missouri Council of Juvenile Judges in approving the proposed new code. So have child welfare organizations in the state.

The code embodies a thoughtful and workable approach to the problems of juvenile delinquency. The Senate Judiciary Committee should beware of tampering with it on frivolous grounds or without justification in reason.

The people of Missouri are concerned about their young people. They look to their Legislature for a responsible and effective approach to the problems of juvenile offenders.

Shift in the Kremlin

Since the Kremlin puts out far more propaganda than news, it is not easy to evaluate the replacement of Dmitri Shepilov by Andrei Gromyko as foreign minister—especially since the former served only since last June. But this post is of such interest to all governments that appraisals of the change are inevitable.

Shepilov, former editor of Pravda and still a member of the all-important Communist party secretariat, was sent to the foreign office while another attempt was being made to bring Yugoslavia back into Moscow's fold. Since old Molotov was personally offensive to Tito, there was reason enough to have somebody else greet the Yugoslav president on his visit to the Soviet Union.

For Moscow the visit was disappointing, yet this hardly seems an adequate explanation of Shepilov's down-grading. After all, his conduct of Middle Eastern policy—especially his rejoinder to the Eisenhower doctrine—cannot be called a failure from the Soviet point of view.

It is possible that the appointment of Gromyko, a Molotov protege and a career diplomat, represents a decision to put foreign affairs into the hands of professionals. But it seems more likely that it is a sign of another clash of Kremlin personalities, a victory of sorts for Molotov over Khrushchev who was Shepilov's sponsor. Whether this means a return to the "tough" line administered by Molotov for Stalin remains to be seen. Even Khrushchev has had his moments of toughness. And the "other work" for which Shepilov has been released may turn out to be important.

It is reasonable to conclude, however, that the control of power in Russia is not stabilized. There are shifts and clashes of individuals, and perhaps compromises, too. And the Russian people as well as the anti-Communist nations may find relief in these suggestions that no single dictator wields that absolute power which, according to Lord Acton, leads to absolute corruption.

Mission for Mr. Truman

A trip to Greece and Turkey by Former President Truman, to mark the tenth anniversary of the Truman Doctrine, would be appropriate for more than one reason.

Just now it would reaffirm in a striking way this country's interest in the stability and independence of Eastern Mediterranean lands, and remind the world that we began asserting that interest as long as 10 years ago. The Eisenhower Doctrine is only an extension of the Truman Doctrine; some would call it a reassertion of the latter, required by the Soviet Union's spectacular leaping over other barriers to a position of influence in Egypt and Syria.

But perhaps the most interesting thing about the Greek-Turkish invitation which Mr. Truman is said to be considering is that it apparently has the warm indorsement of President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles. If so, the country can hope that the President and his Secretary of State have at last put behind them the ungracious and petty hostility to Mr. Truman which has been evident in the Administration for the past four years.

Friendly relations between the former and the present President—if only beyond the water's edge—can work to everybody's advantage, and the nation's.

Bargain Price on Jurors

Especially when St. Louis is concerned, the Missouri Legislature seems to work less by slide-rule than by a warped ouija-board. For example, the lower house has perfected a bill under which the fee for circuit court jurors in second class counties would be raised to $8 a day. But St. Louis and St. Louis county jurors would be raised from $3 to only $6 a day.

Perhaps citizens should not be paid at all for jury duty. But so long as they are paid, what is the basis for discrimination against St. Louis jurors in the proposed law? It is understandable that the bill should prescribe the $6 fee for third and fourth class counties, since some of them, especially in the drouth area, are already hard put to meet their expenses. But why $8 in a second class county and $6 in an urban center of population?

Are city jurors of an inferior variety; and must the Legislature make sure they do not get more than their services are worth?

A Vision of the Meramec

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Polluted waters, littered banks and shack-filled shoreline could become a paradise of play; city's expanding population could relax there after 30-mile drive over good roads; and we city folk need a sanctuary of "the leaf, the twig, the unfound door."

Kenneth A. Poos and Alfred G. Etter

The following article is based on a term report paper which Mr. Poos wrote as a student in the ecology class taught by Mr. Etter, of the Washington University School of Medicine, Clopton Experimental Farm, Clarkesville, Mo. The paper was published in the Missouri Botanical Garden Bulletin.

Upstream much of the Meramec valley is still a timeless place that contains in its autumn mists the magic of a primitive river.

Half asleep on a sunny gravel bar, one does not find it hard to imagine an Indian canoe floating on the water like a willow leaf.

These illusions vanish quickly downstream! Over the 200-year period that white men have used the lower river most that is beautiful has been destroyed. The automobile, the tractor, the chain-saw, the outboard motor and the flush toilet have changed the river mightily.

Recently we put a boat in the river at Highway 66 and motored up past Valley Park. All along the banks was litter. People driving down Yarnell road had thrown bags of cans and garbage from their moving automobiles.

Slums Along a River's Banks

Shacks that once were clubhouses are now tenements, occupied by year-round residents who dump their beer cans, old stoves and iceboxes down the river bank and hang their privies over the water.

Shabby boat docks, packed close together, stretch two miles above Vandover bridge.

Our small motor hit bottom many times and we had to drag the canoe over the Valley Park rapids. It is hard to visualize so big a river so feeble.

Even at drouth level this stream once had enough current to keep a channel. That was when trees staked down the alluvial banks along the river and kept the water working.

Now the burden of gravel that has been poured into the valley from misused lands upstream and exploited bottom lands spreads out over a broad shallow bed. Most of the water flows beneath the surface of these porous deposits.

This shallowing of the channel makes water temperatures more extreme, hotter in summer and frozen more often in winter. This brings a change in the species of fish. Game fish abhor hot water.

Many of the trees that once shaded the stream, mostly willows, have been cut down.

Dumping Place for Raw Sewage

As we continued upstream we heard water running in from a small brook, or so we thought. Then we discovered a black pipe sticking out of the bank sending filthy, stinking gall into the river in an endless flow. This was the end of the Valley Park sewer system.

The Meramec has suffered more than most streams because Valley Park, Kirkwood and other municipalities within the watershed have been growing rapidly and are pumping more sewage into the river.

Valley Park makes no effort at all to process its sewage. A maintenance engineer of Kirkwood admitted that during peak periods it was impossible to process all the sewage and it had to be "turned loose."

Not a single fisherman could be found who knew of any jack-salmon being caught in the fast water below Valley Park in the past three years. Until recent years, this particular fish was caught there in numbers. Until the situation changes radically, bass and bass fishermen don't have a chance in the lower Meramec.

If we add all this mismanagement and negligence to the drunken brawls, crimes and drownings, we have a picture of the established character of the lower Meramec river basin today.

The tragedy is that Metropolitan St. Louis allows a wonderful natural recreational resource to be destroyed.

The River Des Peres, Gravois creek, Maline creek and Coldwater creek were once beautiful streams and now they are gone. Must we lose the last, and best?

Estimates of population growth in this area leave no doubt about the need for greatly expanded recreation facilities near the city. The lower Meramec is the place to find them.

Ways to Revive Stream's Beauty

It is within 30 miles' drive of the average user. There are new highways that can carry the traffic.

Water is available and with some planning, management and determination it could be clean water in adequate quantity. Remnants of the river's old beauty still remain. With encouragement, wildlife could soon add much to the scene.

The following suggestions are well within the limits of a reasonable project:

1. Pool state, federal and local resources to purchase the entire flood-plain and such adjacent areas as may be desirable, from Tyson Valley Park to the confluence with the Mississippi.
2. Institute a 10-year master plan for demolishing buildings, cleaning up litter and returning the area to its natural condition.
3. Eliminate pollution.
4. Build concessions for lease to private interests subject to Park Commission standards.
5. Draw up a diversified recreational program including: safe swimming areas, supervised, preferably swimming pools; tables and barbecue pits; ball diamonds, tennis, basketball and volley-ball courts; overnight camping areas; main lodge; summer camp for children; area for riding concession; primitive area for study of fauna and flora; rifle, pistol and archery ranges; waterfront area and launching ramps; areas where school children can plant trees and learn land-use and conservation.

Sanctuary of the Future

Almost all of these activities could be adapted to the conditions that exist in the valley at present without elaborate flood-control structures, though good land-use in the watershed would still be of great importance.

With complete public ownership of the flood plain, occupants of the valley would not be claiming high flood losses and consequent tax deductions, nor would they be burdening the Government and charitable agencies with their woes.

Further industrial and housing development in the flood plain, an absurd practice at best, would be halted and a hundred future headaches would be prevented.

At the cost of a little more commercial expansion, there would be room for expansion of the human spirit.

The Meramec could be a sanctuary where men and women and children of our own and future generations could come and see a cool flowing stream, singing birds and green grass. "The leaf, the twig, the unfound door, Return! Return!"

Straphangers elsewhere, glad enough to get standing room only, may wonder why some Southern cities get so riled up about whether bus passengers should occupy the front or rear seats.

Displaced Worldlings

LOVE IN A WINDY SPACE, by Wirt Williams. (Reynal, 241 pgs., $3.50.)

While it has a theme which may not appeal to some—that of success, sex and the group of emotionally displaced worldlings of the current day—"Love in a Windy Space" is a successful and a rewarding novel.

Many readers will remember the mark set by Wirt Williams a few years back when he published his first book. Mr. Williams has done a great many things in his comparatively brief life, ranging from the winning of a Ph.D. degree to boxing as a Golden Gloves heavyweight. Much of his personal experience showed in his strongly written, remarkably disciplined novel of World War II, "The Enemy."

This year the author has taken up a far different subject, a love tale in a terse, contemporary manner, the story of a more or less star-crossed couple in the New Orleans and Louisiana setting that Mr. Williams knows and knows very well. Here is a novel swift, vivid and packed with a great deal of sharp observation of the phenomena of unhappy twentieth-century city existence.

Wirt Williams

The author handles his materials with fluency, a sense of urgency and the hand of an artist in the modern idiom. He tells of Wilson Renley, who turned from the Navy to a New Orleans huckster's job, and of Jean Beauchamp, a divorcee who has been around much of her world and found it not entirely a garden of joy—a beautiful and mixed-up kid.

Mr. Williams gives us the bars and other haunts of the French Quarter, Brennan's restaurant, the serene expanses of uptown St. Charles avenue and the St. Francisville bayou area. He presents a fast-paced series of incidents involving sleight-of-hand business tactics and some no less sleight-of-foot boudoir maneuverings.

HARNETT T. KANE.

Still the Noble Quadruped

HORSEMANSHIP: A COMPLETE BOOK ON TRAINING THE HORSE AND ITS RIDER, by Waldemar Seunig. (Doubleday, 390 pgs., $8.50.)

Experts on horsemanship consider Waldemar Seunig's book one of the best and most authoritative since Kikulli of Mesopotamia dictated the first known rules on the subject, written in cuneiform on clay tablets, around 1400 B.C. Col. Seunig's work first came out in 1941. This is the third edition and the first to be available in English. It was translated from the German by Leonard Mins.

Col. Seunig ought to know what he is talking about. He attended Austria's equivalent of West Point, in addition to the world-renowned Spanish Riding School at Vienna, and the French cavalry school at Saumur. He was head of riding and driving instruction for the German army in World War II. He has been a successful participant in Olympic Games competition. He has an encyclopaedic knowledge of past writings on horses and horsemanship, extending from Xenophon's Hipparchikos to and through the 10-volume work by Carraciolo, La Gloria del Cavallo.

Now that automobiles are so obviously here to stay, there is not much awareness in this country of the vast and serious literature concerning the noble quadruped. In the Seunig book there is much to interest general readers. It is incredibly thorough, yet is written in such a way that anybody can understand it. The author's sensitive understanding of horses and his affection for them are everyhere evident. We are indebted to Col. Seunig, too, for a good deal of sound philosophy and the information that fully 80 per cent of the horses that kick are mares.

INQUIRY SHOWS POWER OF TEXAS OIL REGULATORS

Ernest O. Thompson Is Flanked by Rayburn, Johnson When He Arrives to Testify.

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—Washington got one more picture yesterday of how important in Texas and out is the deceptively named Texas Railroad Commission.

Ernest O. Thompson, a member of the Commission for the last 25 years, came into the committee room of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, flanked by Speaker Sam Rayburn, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and several other ranking Texas officials and even Senator Johnson's wife.

Thompson, whose commission has been under fire from many quarters with regard to the current oil crisis resulting from the closing of the Suez canal, had a simple statement in answer to all his critics:

He doesn't believe there is any oil crisis.

He assured the committee members, headed by Oren Harris (Dem.), Arkansas, that if there were a crisis that threatened the national security, instead of being cut back to 14 or 15 days' production a month, every one of Texas's 171,489 oil wells would be at its country's call.

Thompson told Harris and his committee, who are investigating recent increases in crude and other petroleum prices, that despite criticism of the state regulatory commission, he believed Texas had done a "jam-up job" of helping the Government meet Western Europe's petroleum needs since the closing of the Suez canal.

Interior Department officials announced yesterday that emergency oil shipments from the United States Gulf coast to Europe in the week ended Feb. 8 had reached a daily average of 497,000 barrels. This was a jump of 43,000 barrels a day over the previous week.

FUNERAL TO BE MONDAY FOR MRS. EMIL C. HOFIUS

Funeral services for Mrs. Emil C. Hofius, 228 Park avenue, Glendale, wife of the former administrator of Lutheran Hospital, will be at 2 p.m. Monday from Concordia Lutheran Church, 110 West Woodbine avenue, Kirkwood. Burial will be in St. Trinity Lutheran Cemetery.

Mrs. Hofius, 70 years old, died Thursday at Lutheran Hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage. The Rev. Mr. Hofius was administrator of the hospital from 1938 until his retirement in 1955. After his retirement he served as an adviser to the hospital staff until last April. Mrs. Hofius was active in the women's auxiliary organization at the hospital.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Melvin E. Douglas, 806 Essex avenue, Glendale, and Mrs. Edgar Parent, 101 Austin place, Glendale; a sister, Miss Frieda Behrens, 3281 Gustine avenue, and seven grandchildren.

HARRY F. LEITZ APPOINTED ELECTION BOARD HEAD CLERK

Harry F. Leitz, an employe of the Board of Election Commissioners for the last nine years, was appointed yesterday as chief clerk. He fills the vacancy that resulted from the death last month of Joseph P. Uxa. The post pays $5920 annually.

The board also appointed John A. McAteer as supervisor of Democratic judges and clerks, a post that had been held by Leitz. McAteer is a brother of James McAteer, clerk at the Circuit Court for Criminal Causes.

News of the Churches in the St. Louis Area

CHURCH WILL STAY IN CHANGING AREA

Grace Presbyterian, on Clara Avenue, Was Founded in 1891.

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Grace Presbyterian Church, Clara and Ridge avenues, which recently held its sixty-fifth annual meeting, has announced it will remain at its present location despite rapid changes in its neighborhood.

The vote of the congregation to stay was unanimous, the minister, the Rev. John David Warren, said.

"We have been here 65 years because we served the people of our community, and we expect to be here another 65 years because we still are vitally concerned about our neighbors," he said.

The current church budget is the laregst in the history of the church.

The first service of Grace congregation was held in December 1890 in a house at Goodfellow boulevard and Theodosia avenue, with 24 persons present. The famous Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Nicolls of Second Presbyterian Church preached the sermon. The church was organized in 1891.

The first Grace Church was at Goodfellow and Romaine place. It was destroyed by fire Feb. 9, 1896. The present church and stone tower were built in 1909-10.

At a recent anniversary service Miss Lillie Weseloh of 1439 Goodfellow was honored for being a member of the church for 55 years. Miss Weseloh walks the five blocks from her house to church and never misses a service.

The Rev. Mr. Warren was graduated from Washington University in 1950, and received his master's degreee there in 1952. He was graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1955.

Grace Church has had 11 pastors in 66 years. The longest pastorate was that of the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Ward, 1924-1946. Now 86 years old, he is retired and lives in a nursing home in Valley Park.

FEDERATION GROUP PLANS DINNER FOR LEADERS

About 500 pastors and key laymen have been invited to a dinner meeting in behalf of the Metropolitan Church Federation to be held Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at Webster Hills Methodist Church, Lockwood avenue and Berry road.

The meeting is sponsored by Edwin M. Clark, chairman of the newly organized financial advisory committee of the federation.

A film of program activities of the church federation will be shown, and details of the organization's $125,000 budget for 1957 will be given by George T. Guernsey III, finance chairman.

Clark's committee includes a member selected by each Protestant denomination belonging to the federation.

'HANDS ACROSS THE SEA'

The Evangelical Church of Germany contributed to the rebuilding of the London headquarters of the Presbyterian Church of England.

The previous building on the same site was destroyed in February 1945 by a rocket bomb, and the general secretary, the Rev. W. T. Elmsile, and other officers of the church were killed.

The new headquarters will open later this month.

Chaplain

THE REV. ARTHUR L. ENGLAND, who was installed Sunday as new Protestant chaplain of St. Louis State Hospital, 5400 Arsenal street. He is sponsored by the Missouri Council of Churches. He has been chaplain of a hospital at Rusk, Tex.

CATHEDRAL HAD 175 BAPTISMS DURING YEAR

St. Louis Cathedral parish had 153 confirmations in 1956, according to the spiritual report for the year issued last week. There were 175 baptisms during the year, including 61 converts.

An average of 4000 persons received communion every week.

The Cathedral has 5755 parishioners, and there are an estimated 16,500 non-Catholics in the parish area.

There were 66 marriages at the Cathedral, and 81 funerals.

Priests of the Cathedral staff also serve two hospitals, five nursing homes and two homes for the aged located within the parish.

The report for 1956 estimates that at least 3000 hours of instruction, not including the information forums, were given to converts and to persons preparing for marriage.

The Rev. Thomas F. Durkin is administrator of the parish.

EAST GRAND CHURCH CALLS PASTOR FROM ILLINOIS

The Rev. Orville G. Mann will be installed as pastor of East Grand Boulevard Presbyterian Church, 4522 North Nineteenth street, at 3 p.m. tomorrow. The installation will be conducted by the Presbytery of St. Louis.

The Rev. Mr. Mann is a native of Altoona, Pa., and was graduated from the University of Miami, Fla., and Columbia Theological Seminary, Atlanta, Ga. He comes to St. Louis from First Presbyterian Church, Divernon, Ill.

Washington Churches Report Big Turnover in Membership

Annual Rate 40 to 50 Per Cent, Compared to 10 to 15 in St. Louis Churches.

St. Louis pastors who complain about the turnover in their church membership may take heart from the experience of their brother pastors in the nation's capital.

Churches in Washington, D.C., have an annual membership turnover of 40 to 50 per cent, reports Caspar Nannes, church editor of the Washington Star and president of Religious Newswriters Association.

"This is because Washington is a city of temporary people," Nannes told a recent meeting of Southern Baptist editors held there.

For the St. Louis area, several denominational officers estimated the annual membership turnover at 10 to 15 per cent. They further agreed that their estimate was conservative, and that the turnover was greater in city churches than in the county.

"There is a diversity in church life in Washington that does not exist elsewhere," Nannes said.

"Many people attend church regularly and contribute to church support yet never move their church memberships from their former home towns.

"Washington is a city of tourists. The pastor of a prominent church said 40 per cent of his church budget comes from visitors."

Nearly every denomination has a "national" church in Washington, or its counterpart, to represent that denomination, he said.

Nannes said there is a "flight to the suburbs" in Washington. Some old-line churches are pulling up stakes and moving to the suburbs because of business encroachment, parking problems, and changing residential patterns.

"Several downtown churches on the other hand decided they had an obligation to remain downtown. Several downtown churches have built new places of worship."

DISCIPLES CHURCHES MARK 'WEEK OF COMPASSION'

Disciples of Christ churches will open their annual observance of "Week of Compassion" tomorrow, it is announced by the Disciples Council of St. Louis.

The denomination's more than 80,000 churches in the United States will raise funds for relief and rehabilitation overseas. Disciples churches co-operate in the 1957 United Appeal of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox bodies for overseas relief. Funds raised in the Week of Compassion will be part of the $11,500,000 sought by the 1957 United Appeal.

Disciples churches are also seeking an additional $150,000 for a housing project to help six Puerto Rican churches in New York. These churches were organized by Disciples of Christ mission congregations in Puerto Rico who have moved to New York.

MISSION FEB. 24-MARCH 2 AT ST. MALACHY'S CHURCH

The Rev. C. Dismas Clark S.J. will conduct a preaching mission at St. Malachy's Church, Clark and Ewing avenues, from Feb. 24 to March 2. Father Clark serves in the Catholic chaplaincy at City Jail.

Mission services will be held daily at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Frederick L. Zimmerman S.J. is pastor of St. Malachy's parish.

Dr. Wagner at Shaare Emeth.

The Rev. Dr. O. Walter Wagner, executive director of the Metropolitan Church Federation, occupied the pulpit of Congregation Shaare Emeth, 6830 Delmar boulevard, University City, at Sabbath services last night. He described his tour of Israel last year.

DR. JOHNSON IN 27TH YEAR OF PASTORATE

The Rev. Dr. C. Oscar Johnson last week began his twenty-seventh year as pastor of Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington boulevards, largest Protestant church in Missouri.

The Rev. Dr. Johnson preached his first sermons here Feb. 6, 1931, and that Sunday received 53 persons into church membership.

Third Church weekly "Visitor" bulletin gives the following statistics under the heading, "Then and Now." In 1931, there were 1007 pledges to the church budget for a total of $64,278. For 1957 budget pledges total $338,705, from 2053 signed pledges.

During his 26 years as pastor the Rev. Dr. Johnson has received 11,454 persons into church membership, including 3965 by baptism. The congregation has contributed a total of $5,929,925.03 for all church purposes; this amount includes $2,488,692 for current expenses, $1,350,483 for missions, and $1,925,888 for new buildings.

Elected by National Agency.

The Rev. Raymond McCallister of Webster Groves Christian Church was elected member of the Board of Church Extension of Disciples of Christ at a recent meeting at Indianapolis, Ind. The board, organized in 1884, assists in church building projects, and has gross assets of nearly $11,000,000.

HOPE CHURCH WILL OPEN NEW $300,000 BUILDING

Hope Evangelical and Reformed Church, Tamm and Eichelberger avenues, will use its new sanctuary for the first time tomorrow, with services at 9 and 10:45 a.m. The Rev. Norman C. Zulauf is pastor.

About 100 new members will be received into the congregation Sunday, bringing the total membership to 1100.

The new church cost more than $300,000, and is built in contemporary adaptation of Romanesque style of Bedford stone. It seats 620 persons.

Hope Church was organized 12 years ago in Nottingham Public School. The first unit of its building program was dedicated seven years ago.

The new church will be dedicated in May, the Rev. Mr. Zulauf said.

World Council Reports.

The World Council of Churches moved 28,459 refugees during the past year, according to Edgar H. S. Chandler, director of service to refugees.

Pettit and Coleman Hurt as Celtics Down Hawks

Any Player Who Shows Skill As Batter Attractive to Birds

By J. Roy Stockton
Post-Dispatch Sports Editor.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 16—Additional batting power is something Fred Hutchinson would like to see in the Cardinal picture during the coming season and so anybody who shows skill with the bat during the early spring training season is especially attractive.

Several young Cardinal prospects have distinguished themselves thus far. Perhaps one of the most important is Gene Green, a husky young man who was converted to a catcher a year ago, because of the scarcity of hard-hitting receivers in the organization, and because Green, as an outfielder, had suffered a leg injury that threatened to impair his efficiency as a fly-chaser.

Green caught at Rochester last season and batted an even .300 in 121 games. That batting average is approximately 50 points better than Cardinal catchers have batted in recent years, and so Green, despite his comparative inexperience as a catcher, is regarded as one of the brighter prospects in this early spring camp.

Green has taken on weight since he reported to the Cardinals last spring. Perhaps that is his big problem. He looks like a young man who in a few years will need an extra wide seat in movie theaters and on the bench. But he can hit.

"Imagine what that kid could do for us if he were ready to catch big league baseball this year," said Walter Shannon, supervisor of minor league playing personnel during a workout at Al Lang Field yesterday. "We know he can hit. I agree that his weight makes him not too good a prospect for the outfield. But since we changed him into a catcher he seems to have acquired a new interest in baseball. He shows more eagerness to play, and he has shown all the speed and agility a catcher has to have. If he could hurry up and be ready this year or next, it would mean a lot to Cardinal pennant chances."

Another young player who attracted Manager Hutchinson's attention during the first two workouts of the spring was Duck Cordell, a left-handed hitting outfielder with a free swing that reminded observers of Ted Williams of a few years ago.

"That's what we thought we had when we got him," said Shannon, "another Ted Williams. We thought he'd arrive before this as a great major league hitter. Everybody who sees him wants him on their ball club, as a hitter. His trouble is that he hasn't progressed as a defensive player."

Cordell does have a swing something like that of Ted Williams. And in batting practice he has hit dozens of balls over the right-field fence. As for his fielding, he hasn't had a chance to show just yet what he can do. But he has shown that he can hit the long ball and Hutchinson is definitely interested in him.

Batting practice will continue to occupy most of the time during the daily workouts. While the Cardinals have a few problems, such as centerfield and who is to be the shortstop, additional batting power is the big goal.

Bears Play in Final At-Home Game Tonight

By Jack Rice

The Washington University basketball team will end its home season tonight at the field house, in a game against Regis College of Denver. Game time is 8:15 o'clock in this senior graduation exercise for Bears basketball.

Washington's starting team will lose three seniors, Bill Gullion, Jim Barton and Jim Paul. Another senior is Les Medley, a rawboned 6-6, 210-pounder. He has been prominent as a reserve player, a strong force for straightening out the thinking of opposition players when things became rough in play under the boards.

Regis is a high-scoring team. In 18 games, it has scored 70 or more points on 15 occasions, and twice has gone over 100 points. Its high was a 110-65 victory against Gustavus Adolphus.

Bob Cochran, Partner Lose In Golf Meet

BOCA RATON, Fla., Feb. 16 (UP)—Defending champions J. Walcott Brown of Manasquan, N. J., and Ann Quast of Marysville, Wash., set out after their second straight title in the national mixed foursome two-ball golf tournament today.

They meet tourney medalists Jack Penrose of Miami Beach, Fla., and Ann Richardson of Columbus, O., in a tough 36-hole final round to decide the championship.

Brown and Miss Quast advanced to the title round by defeating the Canadian twosome of Marlene Steward, Fonthill, Ont., and Gerry Magee, Toronto, 1 up, while Penrose and Miss Richardson moved up by defeating Robert Cochran of St. Louis and Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Ia., by the same score.

Central Swim Winner.

Central High School's swimming team gained a 46-32 victory over Central in a Public League meet at the North Side Y. Don Lamm and Don Mana each scored seven points for the winners. Steve Schaap of Soldan won the 100-yard breaststroke and 150-yard individual medley.

Reserves Lose Out In Double Overtime

By Harold Flachsbart

Painful injuries to bread-and-butter man Bob Pettit and veteran Jack Coleman today were the big concern of the Hawk basketball team, which last night blew a tense game the Boston Celtics won in double overtime play.

Because it was feared one or both might have suffered fractures, the two front-court stars were taken to Jewish Hospital immediately after the dismal 123-116 ending for the Hawks.

Wet X-ray films showed no evidence of fractures but an examination of dry films later today revealed that Pettit has a probable fracture of the left wrist, Dr. Stan London, team physician, said. Coleman has a severe contusion of the right knee.

More X-rays are to be taken to determine the exact nature of Pettit's injury. Dr. London said the arm likely would have to be put in a cast.

Hawks Fail to Hold Lead.

A Kiel Auditorium crowd of 6328, and a large audience of televiewers tuned in to Station KSD-TV, saw the Hawks blow a 16-point lead (72-56) built in the third quarter but then bounce back from a 97-100 deficit with only 26 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter to tie the score and force the do-or-die overtime action.

The Celtics' colorful Bob Cousy, high scorer in the bitter duel with 33 points, sank a set-up to give the Celtics that 3-point edge and four seconds later fouled the Hawks' Slater Martin, who sank one free throw but missed another to make it 100-98. There was a lot of master-minding as the Hawks called two time outs from there in and after the second, with 10 seconds to go, the strategy called for Jack McMahon to pass to Pettit for the tying goal.

They did just that, and the 6-9 Pettit, honored before the game by a large delegation from Baton Rouge, La., his home town, swished the ball through the cords with just six seconds to go. The first overtime ended 107-107, with Cousy sinking a set-up in the last 12 seconds to offset a leading St. Louis bucket by Charley Share when 22 seconds remained.

Pettit Goes Out After Fall.

It was in the first extra period that Pettit fell heavily to the floor after being fouled by Boston's Jim Loscutoff. He sank one of two free throws awarded him, giving him 31 points in 44 minutes' play, but a moment later was forced to leave the game for good because of the pain in his left wrist.

Without Pettit and Coleman and without Ed Macauley, who fouled out just after the start of the second overtime period of five minutes, the Hawks couldn't cope with the speedy passing, dribbling and sharpshooting of Cousy and Bill Sharman. Cousy made six points in the second overtime and Sharman seven as the two back-court standouts of the league ran wild.

Coleman was hurt in the fourth quarter, trying to catch a long pass from McMahon near the sideline. The 6-foot-7 Jack tumbled over the Boston bench and fell hard on his leg, twisting the knee. Several times earlier in the game the Hawk reserves had held up well against the classy Celtics and even improved St. Louis leads, but the reserves didn't have the savvy in the telltale finish.

Pettit led both clubs in rebounds with 21 but Boston's Bill Russell, who also suffered a left hand injury when his fingers scraped the basket rim in what appeared to be goal-tending, was a tower of strength on defense. He had 16 rebounds and blocked at least six Hawk field goal tries. Russell also missed six out of 10 free throws and scored only 10 points.

A sparkling scoring job by McMahon (21 points for one of his best nights of the season) was wasted as the Hawks lost to the Eastern leaders for the sixth time in seven meetings and dropped into a second-place tie in the Western race with idle Rochester.

Yankee Rookies Sign.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (UP)—Rookies Marv Throneberry and Woodie Held, who starred for Denver of the American Association last season, have signed their 1957 contracts with the New York Yankees.

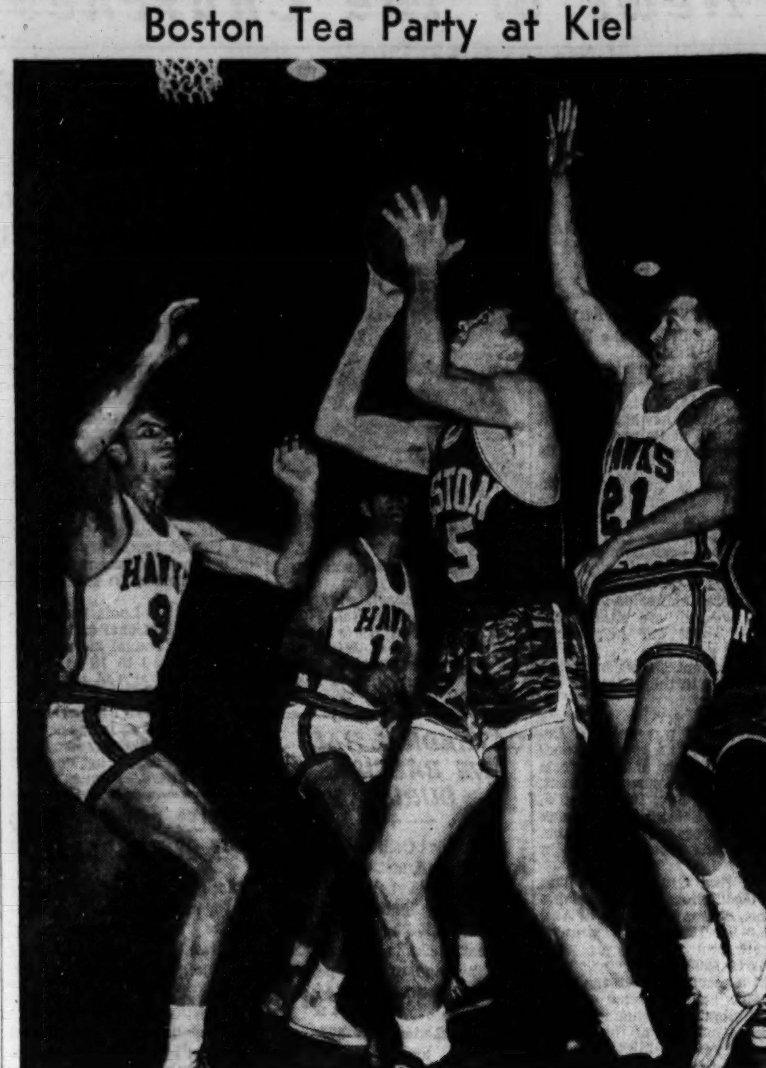
Boston Tea Party at Kiel



—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

It's Showdown Time for Billikens In Missouri Valley Baskets Race

By Robert Morrison

Wichita spells trouble, says St. Louis U. Coach Eddie Hickey, and a near-capacity homecoming game crowd is expected to turn out at Kiel Auditorium tonight at 8:30 to see how the Billikens handle the problem.

It's showdown time for the Bills in the Missouri Valley Conference basketball race. Wichita and Bradley are tied for the lead. Each has defeated St. Louis once. If the Billikens can't beat the main contenders on the St. Louis floor, they'll be in real trouble.

It was Wichita that helped spoil the pudding for the Billikens a year ago when it came here and won a double-overtime thriller that gave St. Louis one loss it could ill afford in that title picture.

Have 7-1 Record.

Now the Shockers of Ralph Miller are an important contender themselves. They carry a 7-1 Valley record (13-6 overall) at the start of what they view as a "suicide" trip to St. Louis and Peoria. Wichita plays Bradley there Monday night.

Hickey was strictly in a "I kid you not" vein when he said Wichita spells trouble. The Bills, no slouches at speed themselves, remember how the Shockers ran 'em down earlier this season at Wichita, 69-64.

Maybe the Bills weren't quite in shape then in that game, their 12th in a 14-7 season (7-2 in the league). Certainly their reserves weren't developed and Hickey continues to make that one of his first orders of business.

"We're still moving into that bench as much as possible," he said.

Three High Seasons.

But it's a question how much the Bills will get out of their bench and they may not be any better than even with Wichita in that respect. And if Wichita is hitting, it can be phenomenal. It had a 49 per cent field goal average in winning at Tulsa and it hasn't lost a Valley game away from home yet.

Wichita's hitting can be a team production, Hickey's scouting notes showed. Joe Stevens, Don Woodworth, and fast improving sophomore center Ev Wessell are the top scorers with 16, 13 and 13 averages in a quick-moving offense.

Collinsville and McBride Grab League Titles

By Harold Tuthill

Undefeated Collinsville and a red-hot McBride team today wore bright new league crowns to carry into state eliminations.

Vergil Fletcher's mighty Kahoks registered their tenth Southwestern Conference triumph and their twenty-second of the season by winning at Alton, 68-55, to leave them three games to the good with only two to go in league competition. Edwardsville was champion a year ago.

McBride was almost as impressive as it walloped St. Mary's, 85-58, at De Andreis, to put George Bauer's Micks at 8-0 with only Mercy and Laboure to be met in Catholic Athletic Conference play. The last contender, Mercy, was eliminated when it was beaten by Du Bourg, 68-60, to drop the Bulldogs, the 1956 champions, into a three-way tie with Du Bourg and Laboure. Each is 5-3 in the race.

McBride, in romping to its thirteenth consecutive triumph, shook off St. Mary's after a close first quarter to forge into a 40-25 halftime lead. The Dragons steadily gave ground and finally wound up with their eighteenth straight loss against no victories.

In the Public High League race, Beaumont moved a step toward the throne room with a 58-41 decision over a Hadley Tech team which held the ball for most of the first quarter in a vain attempt at slowing the Bluejacket barrage. Beaumont, which was ahead, 8-4, after the first eight minutes, led at the half, 27-18, and ran away with the game in the second half for its seventh league triumph. The undefeated Jackets now have 38 successive victories of which 18 have been posted this season.

East St. Louis Lincoln, likewise undefeated, picked up victory No. 22 by beating Sumner of Cairo, Ill., 73-51.

Scotts Beat El Patio In Muny Loop Playoff

The Scotts eliminated El Patio from the Muny Open Division basketball playoffs, winning last night's game at Sherman Park, 91 to 74. Don Mumm scored 21 points for the winners, Chuck Ortman 20 and Bob Ladd 19. Jack Harvey had 27 for the losers.

In the Closed Division, the Cocoas trimmed North St. Louis Turners, 84-74 and Manchester won from Gilbert, 80-68.

Remember? 5...15...25 YEARS AGO

1952—Stan Howlett gained his third straight open division heavyweight Golden Gloves title, beating teammate Larry Robinson of the St. Paul Social Center in the windup before 16,872 at The Arena. . . . Kirkwood's Jim Campbell sank 12 consecutive free throws, but the Pioneers lost to U. City, 56 to 48.

1942—Dolph Camilli, National League most valuable player, home-run and RBI champion, signed his Brooklyn contract at a reported $20,000.

1932 — Leo Grandone, St. Louis U. Center, dribbled through the entire Oklahoma A. & M. team for the winning basket just before the final gun of a game won by the Billikens at Stillwater, 30 to 29.

Webster Beats Ferguson Five To Hold Lead

By John J. Archibald

Webster Groves got past a tough one last night and its slim lead in the Suburban League basketball race began to look more formidable. Playing for the second time in a week without rebounding and scoring star Bob Barker under the basket, Webster defeated Ferguson by a pro-like score of 93-82. Barker has been sick.

Two of Webster's challengers, University City and St. Charles, won easily, but Maplewood dropped out of the race by losing to Brentwood. Sandy Pomerantz scored 28 points as U. City downed Ritenour, 71-57, and Frank Williams had 23 for St. Charles as the Pirates beat Wellston, 65-44.

Maplewood was defeated, 62-52, by Brentwood.

With two games to go, away from home against Kirkwood and Normandy, Webster is a half-game ahead with an 8-1 record. U. City has 8-2, St. Charles 7-2, and Maplewood is now tied with Kirkwood at 6-3.

In the South County League, Affton clinched the title by defeating Mehlville, 65-51, for its eighth league victory without a loss. Riverview Gardens made sure of at least a tie for the North County championship by stopping Berkeley, 64-49.

Concordia Mark Set by Hauser

Concordia Seminary's Preachers, unable to stop Lincoln University of Jefferson City in a game last night, will strive to rebound against Bethel College of McKenzie, Tenn., tonight at the Concordia field house.

Lincoln, 91-86 loser in a game on the Jefferson City home court, outplayed the Preachers most of the game to gain a 70-55 victory. George Pruitt of Lincoln was the game's high scorer with 20 points.

Joe Hauser registered 16 points to bring his season total to 361 for a new Concordia record. Ron Goerss made 357 in 1954 for the previous mark.

Ritenour Puts 'Seven Mat Men' In State Finals

Coach John Moore's Ritenour High wrestling team won seven matches in the semifinals of the state interscholastic championships at Clayton High last night. The Huskies also held a two-point lead in the unofficial point tabulation and seem certain to win their tenth consecutive state title.

Missouri School for the Blind has four finalists with Ferguson, Maplewood and Normandy having three each. The Ferguson squad scored four pins to lead all teams in that department after having tied with Maplewood and Normandy on opening night.

The finals begin at 7:00 p.m. tonight at Clayton High. In addition to the championship matches 12 consolation bouts will be held.

Pelizzaro's Goal Wins For Kutis Eleven 1-0

Val Pelizzaro's goal from outside the penalty area gave Kutis a 1-to-0 victory over the Spanish Society in a Muny Soccer League game at Carondelet Park last night. The victory increased the Kutis lead over the Spanish team to three points.

In the preliminary, Willi Seim scored two goals (one on a penalty) and Gunther Reinholdt one to give St. Louis Sports Club a 3-1 win over Kutis Muny. Charley Spiess counted for the losers.

Tommy Julius, left halfback of Kutis, injured in a collision with Bernie Brown, suffered a slight fracture of the left cheekbone, X-rays taken at the hospital showed.

Kutis meets El Fenix of Dallas in an amateur cup match at Public Schools Stadium tomorrow afternoon.

Galimberti Gets Four Goals; Pattersons Win

John Galimberti scored four goals as the Pattersons routed P.N.A., 7 to 0, in a Khoury League soccer match at Fairground Park last night. Gino Pariani and Frankie Wallace each scored once for the winners, while J. Pisani booted one into his own goal for the other Patterson goal.

The victory leaves the Patterson two points behind Carondelet in the title race.

Meramecs Triumph.

The Meramec Caverns girls basketball team gained a 44-33 victory over the Simpkins. Phyllis Henke scored 18 points and Lila Lipp 13 for the winners. Charlotte Wuest paced the losers with 10.

working on plans for organization of six atomic support commands to provide nuclear firepower for United States Army units and allies.

The same week, West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer said he believed Russian troops based just inside the Communist perimeter already were equipped with nuclear weapons.

WILSON, SANDYS DISCUSSED PLAN

By JACK RAYMOND
© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 — The United States to ready to make stockpiles of nuclear warheads available for use by North Atlantic Treaty forces in the event of an emergency.

This is part of the new West European defense plan that is being developed in view of impending military manpower cuts by Britain and probably other countries in the Atlantic alliance.

It was discussed in an exchange of memoranda between Duncan Sandys, British Defense Minister, and Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of Defense. The latest British memorandum on defense planning, issued to allies in Europe, is understood to be based on Sandys's earlier one.

Present United States laws prohibit turning over to any foreign countries any nuclear weapons. The new plan provides that United States units, equipped with such weapons, will maintain substantial stockpiles at strategic points.

Allied troops in the vicinity of these bases will be trained in the use of the weapons, although without the nuclear warheads. However, in the event of an outbreak of war, under emergency authorization from Washington, the warheads would be distributed to non-United States forces.

Opposition to Distribution.

This scheme was devised because it was felt that efforts would be useless now to seek legislation to permit outright distribution to the Allies of nuclear weapons. In addition, many United States military officials are believed to be opposed to this, although the main opposition is said to be in the Atomic Energy Commission.

In the meantime, however, the United States is carrying out its program for training NATO instructors in the use of modern weapons, including guided missiles. Such weapons are to be given to the Allies, but not the nuclear warheads that can be attached to them.

It could not be ascertained whether the new atomic support commands, disclosed by President Eisenhower in his budget message last month, would be responsible for the nuclear weapon stockpiles.

British defense plans, which have caused a drastic readjustment in NATO policies, are understood here to be based on two major considerations.

These are the planned withdrawal of some 30,000 troops from West Germany, leaving about 50,000 as the British contribution to the North Atlantic forces on the continent; and a program of adopting United States guided missiles, including the intermediate range ballistics missile Thor.

Envoys to New Mexico.

Sir Harold Caccia, British Ambassador, and A. D. O. Heeney, the Canadian Ambassador, will visit White Sands Proving Ground in New Mexico next week.

United States plans for cooperation with Britain in the missile field are said to involve mainly the Talos and the Thor.

The British have put forward suggestions by which they would receive from the United States the blueprints and licenses permitting manufacture of the Talos in Britain.

The Talos is a supersonic surface-to-air guided missile with an estimated range of 75 to 100 miles. The Thor is a surface-to-surface ballistics missile, developed by the Air Force, with an estimated range of 1500 miles.

According to one source, an announcement had been prepared here to disclose plans to make the Thor available to Britain, but that the White House held it up. It was pointed out here that the United States made no commitments to Britain during Sandys's recent visit. It was assumed these commitments were held up for the coming talks between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan.

Ambassador Caccia is understood to have delivered in the past few days the British-proposed agenda for the scheduled talks in Bermuda between the Prime Minister and the President, March 21 through 24.

Norstad Again Warns Against Cut in NATO Forces.

ROME, Feb. 16 (AP)—Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of allied forces in Europe, today repeated his warnings against cutting back NATO's strength. He is in Rome conferring with Italian officials.

Norstad told a press conference he had not been informed of the specific details of the British plan to cut its troops, but added:

"I can say, however, that any significant reduction—wherever it might come from—would be a matter of great concern to me and I'm sure to all NATO authorities."

Asked how NATO would compensate for a withdrawal of this size, Norstad replied:

"A reduction of that magnitude would make it very difficult to work out anywhere near an adequate compensation."

He added that he believed any reduction undertaken by Britain "would be designed to create the minimum problem."

Norstad was received in audience today by Pope Pius XII.

RED RADIO SAYS SHEPILOV POLICY WILL CONTINUE

strong United States reaction to growing Soviet influence in the Middle East might have convinced the Kremlin that it should pull back.

View in Belgrade.

In Belgrade, Yugoslav Communists saw the removal of Shepilov from the foreign ministry as another indication of rift between Stalinists and anti-Stalinists in Soviet leadership.

The Yugoslavs consider Shepilov a supporter of Khrushchev. They view Gromyko's appointment as a victory for the Stalinists.

Diplomats in London also were frankly surprised by the Soviet foreign ministry switch. Most called Gromyko "a link with the Stalinists past," but they cautioned against immediate appraisal of the significance of his appointment.

An Italian foreign ministry source in Rome said Shepilov's replacement by Gromyko "is only a change in names—there is no reason to believe this represents any change in the Kremlin's foreign policy."

Gromyko, as former ambassador in Washington and representative at the United Nations, has symbolized in Western eyes the Russian postwar habit of saying "no" and casting vetoes. Gromyko staged a dramatic walkout from the Security Council in 1946 to block action on continued Soviet occupation of northern Iran.

Shepilov Goes to Old Post.

Shepilov returns to his old post as one of the eight secretaries of the powerful Communist party central committee under Khrushchev. He was relieved of the secretariat job less than two months ago to allow him more time for his foreign ministry duties.

He replaced Molotov as foreign minister last June on the eve of a visit to Moscow by Yugoslav President Josip (Tito) Broz. The change looked like an appeasement of Tito. Molotov had taken a leading role in ejecting Yugoslav Communists from the Cominform in 1948.

Gromyko attained a full membership in the party's central committee a year ago. He is 47 years old, four less than Shepilov.

Gromyko had a responsible job in the foreign ministry at 30, and then was sent to Washington. He became ambassador in 1943.

He attended the 1944 Dumbarton Oaks conference, and with the founding of the U.N. became the Soviets' chief delegate. Under the tutelage of Molotov he became a tough bargainer in many of the important postwar conferences.

Gromyko became deputy foreign minister in 1948 and returned to Moscow. In 1953, after a year as ambassador in London, he was made first deputy foreign minister.

Two Other Shifts.

Two other shifts were announced yesterday.

Nikolai S. Patolichev was named first deputy foreign minister to fill Gromyko's place. He has been a deputy foreign minister since July and is a member of the Communist central committee.

The central committee named Frol R. Kozlov, close collaborator of former Premier Georgi Malenkov, an alternate member of the party's ruling presidium, formerly the politburo.

The changes followed a two-day meeting of the party's central committee.

An announcement said the committee discussed a report by Khrushchev on the "further development of the organization and direction of industry and construction."

The committee, after hearing Khrushchev, adopted a resolution attacking "great deficiencies in planning and economy." It blamed these shortcomings on the "negative effects of departmental narrowness of thinking" and called for "more flexible direction of the national economy."

Jr., a hospital guard, and Langston Jackson, a hospital fireman.

Dr. Siedler said Gray fired one wild shot in Mrs. Thomas's general direction and the three men moved quickly toward Gray. He fired one shot which narrowly missed Spears as the hospital men closed in, but was quickly disarmed.

Twelve police cars converged on the hospital then and Gray was placed under arrest. He was taken to Newstead Avenue District Station and booked for discharging firearms and suspected of assault with intent to kill.

Police said Gray told them he was discharged by the Army in 1953 because of a mental disorder. He also was quoted as saying he smoked a marijuana cigarette before shooting Mrs. Willis.

CARL F. WIEDEN FUNERAL WILL BE HELD MONDAY

Funeral services for Carl F. Wieden, former manager of merchandising for the Globe-Democrat, will be Monday at 3 p.m. at the Calvin F. Feutz undertaking establishment, 4828 Natural Bridge avenue. Burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Mr. Wieden, 59 years old, died of a cerebral hemorrhage Thursday at his home, 6701 Perry avenue, Velda Village Hills. He joined the merchandising staff of the Globe-Democrat in 1922, became department manager in 1944 and retired last year. He served in the Army in World War I and was a former president of the Jobbing Salesmen's Association of St. Louis.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Frances Wieden, and two brothers, Walter G. Wieden of St. Louis, and August C. Wieden of Tucson, Ariz.

DEMOCRATS VOTE FOR NATIONAL ADVISORY GROUP

cil came from a handful of Southern members of the national committee, who put up a brief but spirited fight in an effort to kill it off. Those who spoke against it included Committeemen Hugh N. Clayton of Mississippi, Charles W. McKay of Alabama and Camille F. Gravel Jr. of Louisiana.

These Southerners, while decrying the establishment of the advisory group as "precipitous" and ill-advised," did not oppose retention of Chairman Butler. That opposition came only from Kentucky's representatives in the National Committee, Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, holding the proxy of Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler, and National Committeewoman Mrs. William B. Ardery of Kentucky.

The motion for a vote of confidence in Butler was made by Committeeman Paul Ziffren of California at the insistence, it was learned, of Butler. Butler had been miffed by criticisms of his conduct of the National Committee, particularly criticism by Chandler.

Both Butler and Chandler have been blaming each other for the fact that Republicans won both of Kentucky's Senate seats in the last election.

Butler, in accepting with thanks the vote of confidence, said it had been difficult to function as chairman with the "sniping" from some quarters, which, he added, had been blown up by some segments of the "partisan press."

Panel Discussions.

Most of the afternoon yesterday was devoted to panel discussions presided over by subcommittees of the newly named advisory group. Subjects included foreign policy, human resources, maritime and shipping expansion, water power and conservation, tight money and agriculture.

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, a member of the Advisory Council, declared in the panel discussion on foreign affairs that the Eisenhower Administration had adopted a "gunboat" diplomacy with stress on H-bombs, power and money instead of compassion and understanding.

"At the moment, I'm afraid, both our friends and our enemies see us as a belligerent giant," he said, "threatening to set the world on fire with nuclear weapons. It sees us pressing forward with more and more thermonuclear tests. It hears open threats of massive retaliation, of 'liberation of satellites'.

'Bluff and Backdown.'

"Yet in the next breath the world has seen us back down when the chips were down, after the powerful boasts and open threats we have uttered. We can't build a world of security on bluff and backdown. Neither can we build it with independence on the deterrent power of the nuclear weapon as our sole defense.

"We must bring about an understanding among our own people that our survival depends as much on our ability to stabilize several very shaky areas of the world through economic and political assistance as on our own armed strength."

He declared it would be a "tragic mistake" for the American people to ever believe that the so-called Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East would prove to be a satisfactory answer to the problems there.

U.S. CONTINUING PRESSURE TO END ISRAELI DISPUTE

Israeli cabinet on Thursday and was presented to Dulles yesterday in the form of an detailed aide-memoire, or written statement, to make it impressive. Because it was a decision by the Cabinet and equally impressive counter-action by the United States apparently was desirable, hence the hurried trip of Dulles and Lodge to Thomasville, Ga.

The Dulles statement said he had discussed "a number of topics" with the President, including the prospective official visit of French Premier Mollet to Washington Feb. 26-27, and the President's trip to Bermuda for conferences with British Prime Minister Macmillan March 21-24.

It said they had also discussed the President's proposal for the Middle East.

"The President again expressed his sense of urgency, "it continued," for final congressional action, particularly in view of the recent propaganda of the Soviet Union against the President's Middle East program."

Reference to Shepilov.

Hagerty said there was only a "passing reference" to the Moscow announcement that Andrei A. Gromyko had replaced Dmitri T. Shepilov as Russian foreign minister. Shepilov was the Russian representative who is credited with having arranged the first sale of Russian military equipment to Egypt and his replacement by gloomy, taciturn Gromyko was interpreted in some quarters as slightly favorable for an Israeli settlement.

Gromyko, however, has always appeared as an executor of foreign policy determined by his Kremlin superiors and not as a policymaker, both when he was an ambassador in Washington and at the United Nations.

By the Associated Press.

Diplomatic informants in Washington said Israel, in its note, attached two conditions to pulling its troops out of the Gaza strip and the Aqaba gulf area, captured from Egypt last fall. They were outlined this way:

1. An Israeli civil administration, including a police force, should remain in the Gaza strip, whether or not U.N. troops are stationed there to co-operate in preventing commando attacks on Israel.

2. A U.N. force should be stationed at a strategic point in the Gulf of Aqaba area to guarantee safe passage for Israeli shipping—something Egypt has blocked for more than six years. This arrangement would be backed up by specific United States guarantees of free gulf use.

U.N. Force Would Remain.

Under the Israeli proposal, informants said, the U.N. force could not be ordered out of the Aqaba area by the Egyptian government, but would stay until some kind of a stable pacifying arrangement was made.

A major aim of the Israeli plan, these sources said, was to get a guarantee of non-belligerency on the part of Egypt. Such a declaration by Egypt would undercut the basis for its policy of barring Israeli shipping from both the gulf and the Suez canal.

The statement of the Israeli position presented to Dulles by Eban apparently dashed Dulles's hopes that the Israelis could be induced to withdraw their forces on the basis of a simple declaration of American support. It appeared that only a radical reversal of Israeli policy could restore life to the Dulles plan.

Although State Department press officer Lincoln White called Eban's message "not responsive," Eban said the Israelis "believe our reply expressed appreciation of American interest and was constructive in its spirit and comment."

The United Nations General Assembly meanwhile called a meeting Monday to resume discussion of the controversy. An assembly session scheduled for today was postponed.

HOPE EXPRESSED THAT BLAIR WILL BE STRONG GOVERNOR

The hope that Gov. James T. Blair will formulate a strong program and supply the leadership "to bring us out of the abyss we have been in for many years" was expressed at a meeting of the League of Women Voters of St. Louis last night by State Representative A. Clifford Jones (Rep.) of St. Louis county.

Jones took part in a panel discussion at Gallaudet School, 1616 South Grand avenue. He emphasized his view that the state could not progress unless the Governor moved effectively to get a program adopted. He felt that much would be accomplished in the Blair administration.

Other speakers included Carl McCandless, associate professor of political science at Washington University, who was moderator; James A. Davis, vice president of the Missouri State Labor Council; Ted Kraus, executive vice president of Associated Industries of Missouri; State Representative W. A. Geary Jr. and Herbert A. Trask, state political correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

HOODLUM SQUAD ARRESTS DRIVER ON WEAPON CHARGE

Kenneth Mueller, a steamfitter, 2903 Wyoming street, was arrested today by detectives of the hoodlum squad and booked suspected of carrying a concealed weapon. He also was charged with making an illegal left turn.

Detectives said they saw Mueller drive south on Skinker boulevard and make a left turn into the Express Highway. The officers reported they found a loaded .38 caliber revolver under the driver's seat of the automobile.

Mueller told them he did not know how the weapon happened to be under the seat and added the car belonged to his brother. Another license plate was found in the automobile. Mueller was arrested June 30, 1955, and questioned about the murder of J. Fred Koenig, gambler and former politician, whose body had been found in the trunk eight days earlier.

GENERAL 13A

Emily Post

SAYS:

Upon the death of a friend you should go at once to the house, write "With sympathy" on your card and leave it at the door. Or, you write a letter to the family. In either case you send flowers, addressed to the funeral of (name of the deceased) or to the nearest relative. The latter method is preferable, if the relative is a friend. But the former method is followed if the deceased alone was known to you.

Plans and specifications may be obtained at the Office of the President, Room 325, City Hall, upon three (3) days' notice and the deposit of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00).

Mild Weather Likely for Several Days

—Associated Press Wirephoto.
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Relatively mild temperatures should prevail in the St. Louis area for the next several days, but Acting Chief Meteorologist Arthur A. Rausch said there is a possibility of rain here by Monday.

Generally fair weather and temperatures near seasonal levels prevailed over most of the nation today, except for rain in the middle and southern Atlantic states, western Pennsylvania to southern Michigan, southeast Texas and drizzle along the southern California coast.

Only scattered areas in the nation reported below zero temperatures early today. Minimums ranged in Missouri this morning from 25 at Kirksville to 33 in downtown St. Louis, and across the country from 12 below zero at Fraser, Colo., to 68 at Laredo, Tex. Highs yesterday varied from 25 at Sault Sainte Marie, Mich., to 91 at Presidio, Tex.

With only .22 of an inch of rain in St. Louis this week, precipitation for the year continues to lag. Total rainfall for the year here is 2.13 inches as compared with the normal of 3.34 inches.

The stage of the Mississippi river at St. Louis rose above the zero mark on the gauge yesterday for the first time since Sept. 15, when it was 0.1 of a foot. A diversion of water from Lake Michigan into the Illinois river and to the Mississippi brought the level here to .6 yesterday and .9 today.

Pattern of Paralysis in Dock Strike

Curving approaches to piers at Weehawken, N. J., are lined high with goods awaiting shipment in a port where no ships are moving. Aerial view of piers across the Hudson river from mid-town New York City was taken yesterday as striking longshoremen and their employers continued to wrestle with contract problems which led to the dock strike and the shutting down of port activities from Maine to Virginia. Possible end of strike was delayed yesterday when union leaders split on course to be followed.

BARGE FOR ROYALTY

Portugal's royal barge at dock in Lisbon after being gilded and refurbished for use by Britain's Queen Elizabeth today. Manned by 80 oarsmen, the barge will be used to carry Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to shore Monday for state visit following their reunion on the yacht Britannia. The barge, built in the Seventeenth century, was used by Elizabeth's great-grandfather, King Edward VII, when he visited Lisbon 50 years ago.

BRINK OF DISASTER

Tractor which lost its front wheels in the process hangs over the St. Joseph river after mowing down 125 feet of guard rail on bridge near Bristol, Ind., yesterday. Police said the driver, Charles R. Rath of La Grange, Ind., apparently went to sleep while wheeling down Northern Indiana Toll Road. Rath escaped, uninjured but shaken. "I can't swim," he said, "and when I opened my eyes all I could see was water." —Associated Press Wirephoto.

WOMAN OFFERS TO 'SELL' UNBORN CHILD FOR $2000

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

RIVERHEAD, N. Y., Feb. 16 —A distraught young housewife offered yesterday to "sell" her unborn child for $2600 in order to "clear" her husband of a charge of fraud.

Mrs. Gertrude Kolsch, 28 years old, mother of a six-month-old son, William, and expecting another child in July, said, "I want to put the one I'm carrying up for adoption to pay the money we owe. I can't part with William. I've had him in my arms. But I'd give up the new one for my husband. I want to clear him."

Her husband, Herman, 27, in jail in lieu of $1500 bail, was arrested by state police last Friday on a charge of illegally selling an automobile attached by a chattel mortgage. Nassau county authorities have also issued a warrant for his arrest on grand larceny in connection with the same deal.

Contract Bridge

By Sam Fry Jr.

THERE'S a very corpulent gentleman who plays at one of New York's clubs. One of the other regular players in the game is a pixie-like expert. Said expert is a perfect partner during the bidding and play, speaking of his technique and his manners both. Except . . . ! Whenever the obese gentleman becomes declarer, his partner, the P.E., very carefully puts down the dummy as close to his own edge of the table as is possible. He just loves to see the stout fellow, a foot or so behind the table, start off struggling mightily to reach for and play dummy's cards. We enter this as Exhibit F in the projected 10-year study of the bridge mind, as contemplated by the psychology departments of several universities.

Today's quiz concerns responding to partner's takeout double. The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1♦	Dbl.	Pass	?

What should West bid on each of the following hands?

1. ♠7642 ♥63 ♦108752 ♣K5
2. ♠Q5 ♥J976 ♦82 ♣Q8642
3. ♠AK74 ♥J3 ♦862 ♣10652
4. ♠A5 ♥KJ10642 ♦72 ♣Q83
5. ♠AK753 ♥Q4 ♦1062 ♣874
6. ♠AQ954 ♥AJ10 ♦732 ♣Q4
7. ♠964 ♥Q82 ♦AQ ♣97632
8. ♠1072 ♥853 ♦Q64 ♣8652

Answers Monday.

TODAY'S PATTERNS

4784 10—18

Jiffy-cut printed pattern is a cinch to sew. Tissue pattern is all one piece; cut out the entire dress at once. Lovely princess lines; soft back fullness, cinched by tiny belt.

Printed Pattern 4784: Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 requires four yards 35-inch fabric.

Printed directions on each pattern part. Easier, faster.

Send 35 cents (coins) for pattern — add 5 cents for each pattern for first-class mailing. Send to Anne Adams, care of St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Pattern Department, P.O. Box 121. Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Print your name, address with zone; size and style number.

Kichen towels tell a gay story — of "let's pretend we're grownup too." Six amusing young scenes done in easy outline and crosstitch that looks like applique.

Pattern 596: Transfer of six different towel motiffs, each about 6 by 8 inches; directions.

Send 25c in coins for a pattern—add 5 cents for each pattern for first-class mailing. Send to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Needlecraft Dept., P.O. Box 136, Old Chelsea Sta., New York 11, N. Y. Print pattern number, name, address, zone.

Our gift to you — two wonderful patterns for yourself, your home — printed in our Laura Wheeler Needlecraft Book . . . Plus dozens of other new designs to order — crochet, knitting, embroidery, iron-ons, novelties. Send 25 cents for your copy of this book now — with gift patterns printed in it.

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

FROM a 13-year-old girl, Katy Wechsler, I have this question:

"Is the moon always full at the time of a total eclipse?"

Yes, there is always a full moon at that time. An eclipse of the moon takes place when the earth gets in the way of the light which otherwise would flood the moon.

Not counting the short period of eclipse, the sun always lights the moon. It happens, however, that we see only a section of the lighted part at the time of a new moon or a half moon.

* * *

WHEN, as we may say, the moon is "over to the side," the earth never can block the sunshine which goes to it. The only time that this can be done is when the earth is directly between the sun and the moon. I say "between," but of course the moon is much closer to us than the sun. On the average, the sun is about 400 times as far from us as the distance of the moon from the earth.

Q. Does the moon have an atmosphere?

A. No. The moon is without air, so far as any observation from the earth has been able to determine. There might be a very small amount of air, or some other kind of gaseous covering, but so little as hardly to count.

An excellent proof of what I have said has been found in the "eclipsing" of stars by the moon. The moon is a wanderer, and goes in front of various stars while it is passing across the sky.

If the moon had air like the earth's air, the light from a star would be bent a little when the eclipse took place, causing a slight delay in the loss of light from that star. As it is, the star's light "goes out" in a great hurry, instead of fading slowly.
